PREPARING FOR THE BIG BLOW

Aerial photograph shows the drilling camp for crews who are going to blow up Ripple Rock, the navigation menace which obstructs narrow Seymour Narrows channel between Vancouver Island and the mainland just north of Campbell River. About two years from now, when drilling is finished, 750 tons of dynamite will be exploded underneath the rock, beneath the swirling water.

N.B. ELECTION TODAY; UNIQUE BALLOTS USED

(Phone 2-3131 for Results)

FREDERICTON (CP)—New Brunswick voters used blank ballot forms in today's provincial election.

There was no official ballot as used in federal voting and in elections in other provinces.

The New Brunswicker had a choice of two ballot types: 1. A blank sheet of paper. 2. A ballot issued by one of the contending political parties and listing only its particular candidates.

On the blank sheet the voter could write the names of the candidates he favored.

On a party ballot he could vote a straight ticket by putting it in a ballot box unchanged, or he could split his vote by scratching out one or more names and substituting others of his choice.

Strasser Launches German Party

MILTENBERG, Germany (UP)—Otto Strasser, a one-time confidante of Adolf Hitler, brought his new Nazi party into the open Sunday at a founding conference marked by brawling, bloodshed and rioting.

Shouting youths fired salvos of tear gas into the conference and fought a hand-to-hand battle with riot police before order was restored. It was a scene in the best Nazi tradition in the old Bavarian town.

The anti-Strasser youths surged into the hotel conference room with shouts of "Get down!" and "Give up!" as Strasser began addressing the

B.C. Socreds Pour Fire On CCF in Saskatchewan

Rail Rates Raised 7% For Lumber

In Effect July 3
On B.C. Shipments

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners today granted the railways a 7 per cent increase on lumber shipments within western Canada.

The increase is to take effect July 3. The board tied it in with its award of a 7 per cent interim boost on general rates. The interim increase was approved pending a fall hearing on the railways' application for an across-the-board 13 per cent jump.

The lumber increase affects shipments from points in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and from west of Port Arthur and Armstrong, Ont.

The board's order applies "wherever the rates from points in British Columbia to points in western Canada prior to March 7, 1956, were on a parity with rates from Seattle, Wash., to the same destinations."

Hearings in the case took place here March 20 and May 15 of this year. Among those opposing the increase were the British Columbia Manufacturers' Association, Consolidated Red Cedar Shingle Association, Plywood Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia, Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association and the Northern Lumbermen's Association.

Teenagers Attack Immigrants

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Fist-

swinging, rock-throwing teenagers attacked six young Italians, three of them girls, at nearby Lakeland beach Sunday night. A girl with three men were taken to hospital for treatment.

Shouting "DPs go home," the teenagers taunted and then attacked the three couples as they sat in their car in front of a refreshment stand. Fists and stones flew after the Italians had been forced from the car.

Squads of police in cruisers converged on the scene and broke up the fight. Nine youths were questioned at police headquarters, then released with a warning to be available for line-up identification by the injured.

Girl Drowned

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Seventeen-year-old Dorothy Snider of Toronto was drowned Saturday night after she and 34 companions, all young people, were thrown into shallow water when a pontoon bridge overturned at Ferry lake, Acton, near here.

The operation was aimed particularly at Col. George Grivas, the British-trained Greek Cypriot leader of EOKA, who once put a "price on the head of Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus."

He was reportedly surrounded in the 400 square miles of pine woods and dense underbrush at one point but apparently escaped when the forest fire raced through the tinder-dry woods toward the British army.

Hospitals throughout the land were filled with burned men as British troops and civilians fought the flames.

The forest fire hit some of Britain's top troops—marine commandos, paratroopers, armor and ground units of the Royal Air Force and the Royal Navy.

Thousands of acres of highly combustible pine timber were blazing, and there was no rain in sight. The fire threatened to become the worst in Cyprus' history.

Strasser meanwhile outlined his program:

1. Reunification of Germany.
2. Creation of an army of volunteers.
3. Setting up of a "young people's service" similar to the Hitler youth movement.
4. Creating an economic parliament.

He said his new program was the only answer to the problem of present day Germany.

The emblem of the new party will be a hammer and sword crossed beneath two ears of corn—the same symbol used by the "Black front" formed by Strasser in 1933 when he was with Hitler.

The Sunday Times says scientists expect to have new pills available within the next 20 years to change a person's color from black to white.

Canada to Build Own Air Missile

Campney Announces Project in Annual White Paper Presented to Commons

OTTAWA (BUP)—Arrangements are under way to produce in Canada a U.S. type of air-to-air guided missile "in order to make Canadian interceptor aircraft better able to perform their role in the air defence system," Defence Minister Ralph Campney said today in his annual White Paper tabled in the Commons.

It was understood the missile would be either the Falcon or the Sparrow, probably the latter. A U.S. navy-developed missile, it will be used to arm the RCAF's CF-100 all-weather jet interceptors.

He said Social Credit ads, blanketing Saskatchewan newspapers in a major effort, made it nearly impossible to recognize his home province.

B.C.'s CCF leader Robert Strachan told a Prince Albert audience Premier Bennett was "dishing up a lot of baloney" when he claimed his province's

IN PARTNERSHIP

Part of the job being done by the defence research scientists embraces work, in partnership with the United States and Britain, on defence against the intercontinental ballistic missile. This country's share of the project involves work on the radar and guidance system on the CF-105 supersonic aircraft and its gas-turbine engine, and the arming of it and the CF-100 with air-to-air missiles.

The White Paper noted that appropriations for the Defence Research Board this year total $79,032,389, up about 50 per cent from the year before. Most of the increase will go into work related to the guided missile program, furthering work on the CF-105 supersonic aircraft and its gas-turbine engine, and the arming of it and the CF-100 with air-to-air missiles.

It could happen to an even greater extent in Saskatchewan under a Social Credit government," he said. "After talking to major industrialists I would say that what is lacking in Saskatchewan is confidence in the present government."

Canada started a guided missile project, known as "Velvet Glove," about five years ago. The White Paper noted that the project "has resulted in the training of some 400 specialized personnel in Canada, and has been accompanied by the development of facilities for research, testing and evaluation of guided missiles."

A limited number of the "Velvet Glove" missiles would be produced, the White Paper said. They would be used for testing and training purposes at the RCAF establishment at Cold Lake, Alta.

The "Velvet Glove" project has served its purpose of building up within DRB and the Canadian industry "a team of scientists and engineers capable of developing and producing guided missiles in this country," the White Paper said.

The project had also made the officers of the armed forces familiar with techniques and processes involved in the use of such weapons.

7% Freight Rates Hike Ordered for July 3

OTTAWA (CP) — The Board of transport commissioners today authorized the railways to increase freight rates by seven per cent between July 3 and Oct. 31.

The increase, which might yield the railways between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 in the four months, is an interim measure pending fuller board consideration of an application by the companies for a general 15 per cent boost.

The railways have sought the higher rates to offset recent contract concession to 150,000 non-operating employees. The companies have estimated the 15-per-cent hoist would yield Canadian National Railways $27,600,000 a year and the Canadian Pacific Railway $19,200,000.

LIMITING ORDERS

Initially, the transport board announced last week it would grant an increase—unspecified

then—to be effective between July 1 and Oct. 31.

The temporary general increase order—to be reviewed by the commissioners after fall hearings starting here Sept. 24—was accompanied by two interlocking judgments and directions for particular treatment of some commodities with respect to tolls.

The board limited any increase on coal and coke to 12 cents a ton for the four-month period. The railways have asked for 25 cents. Western coal operators have protested the proposed boost.

The board also instructed to:

1. A 10 per cent increase in rates on grain moving within the west to Canadian markets, ordered tentatively by the board in 1955 to go into effect last Jan. 1 and later suspended, is wiped out and replaced by the seven per cent increase.

DOMESTIC ONLY

2. The railways will be allowed to apply increases up to seven per cent on western lumber moving eastward, this tallying with the size of the general hoist. Last winter, the board blocked a railway attempt to boost the lumber rates by six per cent.

The allowed raise in grain rates does not affect Canada's big grain movement, the export trade. It is only on grain and grain products going to domestic markets. The export tolls are held at low levels by the Crownsmen Pass statute of 1925.

The domestic rate increase could be worth $1,500,000 a year to the railways, depending on how they apply it.

The grain rate boost resulted from a railway application put in about two years ago. Initially, the board considered giving the companies two successive increases of 10 per cent. Western interests protested, and the latest decision follows a series of hearings on the west coast.

Apart from the treatment of grain, lumber and coal, the board made these other distinctions in its main judgment:

1. Joint international rates between Canadian and U.S. railways are not affected.

2. Export and import rates to and from Canadian ports—which are maintained on a parity with U.S. seaboard points—are not touched.

MANTAIN DIFFERENTIALS

3. There will be no increases on traffic passing through Canada from one U.S. point to another.

4. Established differentials in rates between straight rail hauls and those involving rail and water shipments will be preserved "as far as may be practicable." This applies mainly to traffic between eastern and western Canada in which Great Lakes shipping is in competition with the railroads.

The general rate increase, subject to review, was granted following the claim of the railways that they will need one of considerably larger size to take care of the contract concessions gained this summer by the non-operating employees. It is conceded that increases also will be obtained by the running trades unions, taking in those who actually operate the trains.

The increases—either interim or permanent—have been opposed by the governments of eight provinces, all except Ontario and Quebec.

In submissions to the transport board, the railways have contended that the full 15 per cent increase they seek would not give them the chance to reach the level of earnings which the board previously considered they should have.

MINIMUM INCREASE

In its major decision today, the board said studies by itself and its specialists have shown that the seven per cent temporary increase is an "irreducible minimum."

It would not give the railways enough leeway to get back the amount in retrospective pay increases the non-operating workers already had received. Nor would it cover later concessions to the running trades.

The board's decision contained a suggestion that the eventual judgment will give the railways more than seven per cent. In explaining why it put in an interim decision now, it said:

"When increases on general freight rates appear inevitable, they can be absorbed less onerously by the public who has to bear them if they can be apportioned gradually."

This was the fastest decision the board ever has given on a major rate increase.

The hearings lasted just two days—some have gone on for as much as 18 months.

Woman Given Top Israel Cabinet Post

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Mrs. Golda Myerson succeeds Moshe Sharett today as foreign minister in a cabinet shakeup that gives Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion a free hand in his policy of toughness with the Arab states.

A spokesman for the Mapai (Israel Labor) party said Sharett would formally resign at today's cabinet meeting to become secretary-general of the party which has lost ground in recent elections.

Mrs. Myerson, a former Milwaukee, Wis., school teacher and now Israel's labor minister, was named to succeed Sharett. She is such a staunch observer of Ben-Gurion's policy of toughness that her appointment will give the prime minister complete control of foreign affairs, observers said.

Mordechai Namir succeeds Mrs. Myerson in the labor post.

Sharett, with the support of a strong cabinet faction, had opposed Ben-Gurion on many foreign policy issues.

GOP Believes Ike Will Run

FROM AP AND UP

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders point out what they believe to be a strong sign that President Eisenhower intends to run again.

They note that the White House has not made any move to delay final arrangements for the Republican national convention in San Francisco.

The Republican national committee will meet here Friday to wrap up the last details for the party's August convention in San Francisco.

Among other things the 46-member group will consider a proposal to compress the proposed four-day convention into three days.

If it acts on such a proposal without any adverse White House reaction, the move will be interpreted as indicating that despite his operation Eisenhower is going along with plans for his renomination and that of Vice-President Richard Nixon.

The original move to shorten the convention was based on the presumption that little time would be required to approve an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

President Eisenhower conferred privately with Vice-President Richard M. Nixon for 15 minutes today at Walter Reed Hospital. Nixon told reporters that "the question of the president's future political actions was not discussed."

2 Victoria Daily Times
MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1956

Mr. Eisenhower also held a separate private meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and a brief joint meeting with Nixon and Dulles. It was his first visit with Nixon since the president's emergency operation June 9 to relieve an intestinal block.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's.

IN PARLIAMENT

Fireworks Loom
In Defence Debate

(From Times News Services)

Will Query Value of D.E.W. Line

Opposition members greased their weapons today ready for a major defence debate scheduled to open Wednesday.

Defence Minister Ralph Campney tabled the 1956-57 "White Paper" on defence today, as the annual prelude to scrutiny of his department's spending program by Parliament.

The White Paper always is submitted to the House a day or two before opening of debate on defence appropriations. The spending on defence needs this year will take more than a 40-cent bite out of every dollar paid in taxes.

The White Paper, in 53 close-packed pages, summarizes the country's defence position in light of international developments. It sketches national defence policy, reviews what has been done in the previous year and provides a take-off point for the opposition's annual attack on the government's handling of defence matters.

This year outside sources have loaded the opposition with some high-explosive ammunition for an all-out offensive. Leading Conservative party members said during the weekend that Campney's expense tab—totaling some $1,775,000,000 for the 1956-57 year—would get its roughest going-over of all time.

The opposition groups have on hand much of the testimony given recently to the U.S. congressional committee by top American military experts. American air force generals Earle Partridge and Curtis LeMay testified that North America's air defences are inadequate, now and will remain so in the predictable future to repel atomic attacks.

Campney likely will be asked:

Conscription Issue May Come Up

Simmonds particularly has been a persistent critic of the way defence matters are being handled. He also has stumped repeatedly for a form of manpower conscription.

Campney may point to British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's hint last week of a shift in Britain's defence policy. Eden said that the threat of the H-bomb was the major factor in all defence reckoning now, and it meant that conventional forces and weapons—such as tanks, guns and supporting arms—no longer had the significance they once had.

Campney could cite Eden's statement to support the government's stand that conscription

Senate to Probe Money Policies

A Senate inquiry into whether the recently-initiated tight money policies of the Bank of Canada are justified loomed today as one of the week's top features.

The inquiry will develop out of hearings which the upper house banking and commerce committee has scheduled on a government bill to increase the lending power of the industrial development bank.

Governor James E. Coyne and other key officials of the Bank of Canada are expected to appear before the committee. New Brunswick Senator Neil McLean, a former banker recognized as possibly the outstanding practical economist in parliament, has served notice that he intends to probe extensively into the soundness or otherwise of the restrictive credit policies which the central bank inaugurated several weeks ago.

Campney Plan Gives More Men To Navy, RCAF

Flying-Pay Boost Hinted In White Paper on Defence

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's continued concern with improving Canada's air defence system is demonstrated clearly in a white paper on defence tabled today in the Commons.

The 52-page booklet, tabled by Defence Minister Campney, indicates that army strength may be cut again to bolster the RCAF and navy.

"Provision has also been made for some increase in strength in the navy and air force," the paper says. It does not elaborate.

ARMY SHORT 2,000

The RCAF manpower ceiling was raised by 1,000 to 51,000 at the expense of the army about a year ago. The army's ceiling was cut to 49,000 and the navy's remained unchanged at 20,000. But the RCAF and navy now are nearing their manpower ceilings while the army is about 2,000 men short of its allowed maximum.

Other matters dealing with the air defence system referred to in the white paper:

1. There is an "urgent requirement" for the supersonic CF-105 jet interceptor now being developed, to succeed the CF-100, now in squadron service.

TO PRODUCE MISSILES

2. Canadian industry has made progress toward developing designs and manufacturing capabilities for air-to-air guided missiles to arm the CF-105. Canada is working out arrangements for production in this country of an American-designed air-to-air missile. Some 400 technicians have been trained on missiles.

3. The CF-105 project and guided missile program together will cost some $23,000,000 in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

4. The Mid-Canada radar warning line along the 55th parallel will cost $100,000,000 this year compared with $46,000,000 last year.

5. Efforts are continuing to improve the flight performance and fire power of the CF-105 pending delivery of the CF-105.

MORE PAY FOR FLYING

6. The white paper indicates the defence department is considering an increase in flying pay for airmen. Fliers now receive $30 a month extra. Current reports are that the RCAF is seeking as much as $150 a month flying pay.

VERNON—Lorne Hopkins, 5, was drowned Saturday when he fell into Girard Creek in the centre of Vernon. He was in the water 20 minutes and was swept 300 to 400 yards downstream. A neighbor phoned police when she saw the child being carried by in the fast-flowing creek.

JUMBO SURVEY ASKED

INVERMERE—Highways Minister Gagliardi is "not considering the interests of the people" if he rules in favor of the Rogers Pass route for the trans-Canada highway without examining the Jumbo Pass route. Windermere district board of trade says the board said in a public statement that to make a "rational comparison" between the Rogers and Jumbo passes, "there must be a survey of Jumbo Pass which equals in intensity and scope the material which exists on Rogers Pass."

BOY'S LEGS CUT OFF

VANCOUVER—A seven-year-old Vancouver boy who lost both legs when run over by a CNR work train was reported in fair condition in hospital. Peter Sinclair had both legs cut off above the knees in the railway yards near Ballantyne pier Saturday afternoon.

It was the second such accident here in three days. Wednesday, a 49-year-old woman escaped from the Essondale Provincial Hospital was run over by a CPR freight train near the mental institution, and also lost both legs. Hospital officials today said she was "not doing too badly."

3 Fingers Slashed Off Hacked, Burnt Corpse

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Police today were confronted with a strange and apparent revenge killing in which a young man, his fingers hacked off and legs slashed, was soaked with naptha gas and set ablaze.

The victim's seared and partially-mutilated body was found Sunday in a drainage ditch at the rear of Hamilton cemetery in the west end of the city.

More than 18 hours after the grisly find, police were unable to make an identification or determine the cause of death. The body was burned from feet to head but it was not known whether the man was alive when he was set afire.

Inspector of Detectives Walter Hagen said it appeared to be a "murder of vindictiveness or prejudice." Robbery was ruled out as a motive.

Basis for Unification

AFTER YEARS OF CONVERSATION on the subject, Greater Victoria now has a definite starting point for informed study and possible action on amalgamation.

The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, whose fact-finding unification survey was financed by the Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce, is explicit on that point. The submission of its report and recommendations, it states, "represents only a first step."

"Already," the report points out, "the interest of the public, of civic and other community leaders and of provincial officials has been aroused. But there remains the task of enlarging that interest and channelling it into a thorough consideration of actual proposals designed to improve upon the existing governmental structure. Imaginative and forward-looking leadership will continue to be much in demand."

But if the report is "only first step" it is an imposing one. Mr. Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the joint amalgamation committee and a man probably better versed in the subject than any other here, says it is "well thought out and factual, and the conclusions, in the main . . . very good."

After their intensive field work here, framers of the report come out flatly for amalgamation of Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, View Royal and southern Saanich. They prefer unification to the creation of a metropolitan board super-imposed over existing councils.

One of their most telling points emphasizes the fact that amalgamation would keep control over expanding services in the hands of municipally-elected representatives — the men and women directly responsible to the taxpayers not only for tax-spending but tax-raising. That, and the unique geographical entity of Greater Victoria, should provide impressive arguments for complete amalgamation.

The Institute recognizes the present need for those metropolitan agencies already in existence here — the school board, water board and others. "Greater Victoria," it notes, "has become one of the leaders in this movement" on the continent. And these boards can be highly valuable in easing the transition to one unified council.

The boards have, however, the disadvantage of removing their personnel one step from the taxpayers whose money they spend.

Most of Greater Victoria's municipal leaders have shown a clear appreciation for the facts and suggestions that have been submitted. They are, generally speaking, prepared to give them close study. That is the least they can do.

Six-Day Business Week

THERE IS STILL GOOD REASON to believe that provisions of the Shops Regulation and Weekly Holidays Act can be altered by simple order-in-council to permit many additional categories of stores to remain open six days a week.

One provincial official has offered the opinion that the act would have to be amended, necessitating a delay until the next session of the Legislature. But no formal ruling has yet been made on the proposal, and it is to be hoped that Mayor Scurrah will persevere in efforts to have Wed-

And when they come to detailed analysis of the report, they may very possibly come to share the Institute's conclusion that obstacles in the way of progress to unification should not be over-estimated.

"In practical and academic discussions alike," says the report, "the Institute has been impressed on a number of occasions by the tendency to make a solution to a specific metropolitan area problem seem more complicated and difficult than, in fact, it is or need be."

Particular attention is paid in the report to the question of assets and liabilities of respective municipalities. That has always seemed a major obstacle to many who have supported amalgamation here in the last decade or two. Nor does the document ignore the matter of a district's pride in certain of its assets.

The Institute is illuminating on these points.

The establishment of an enlarged municipality, it says, "does not mean that one of the existing municipal units will be absorbing the others. The objective rather is to create the most effective governmental framework for an area which is already in essence one continuous urban community. One of the purposes of municipal merger is to provide a pooling of assets of that community for the common benefit of all its residents. A like pooling of those liabilities which have been incurred to create municipal assets would appear to be only fair and reasonable procedure. In the circumstances, the Institute recommends generally against any adjustment of assets and liabilities between present municipalities entering the enlarged city."

That is a matter on which representatives of the different councils will doubtless offer different viewpoints. Before they do, it would be wise if they gave relevant clauses in the report full study.

Obviously amalgamation would have its influence on taxes in any present municipalities that might come under the unified administration. On figures which the Institute has produced, little hope for reduction could be held by any but the city — and in Victoria's case only at the possible risk of reduced services.

That means that taxes would go up. The prospect need not be surprising. They are going up anyway and will continue to rise as the public demands more services.

This and many other features of amalgamation will not be accepted without investigation. It is only proper that all sides of the argument should be heard. Preferably, views should be expressed only after intelligent study and not presented as a package wrapped in parochial pride and tied with strings of prejudice.

The current campaign to change the regulations has received wide support from the city council and many business firms. Many thousands of dollars must be lost here each year through inability of tourists — brought to Victoria through extensive advertising — to enter shops on Wednesday afternoon. The movement to correct this situation has been gathering strength for several years and should now be pushed through to a successful conclusion.

Let's Make This Permanent

ONCE AGAIN A PROPOSAL TO log part of the Thetis Lake Park timber has come before City Council and it should get the short shrift it deserves.

Too few public representatives are able to view parks as a trust, not as an opportunity. To say that the hinterlands of Thetis Lake are not now visited by the public, and should therefore be logged off, is to take a pathetically short-term view of park purposes.

Such land is set off, not merely for today, but for tomorrow. The time is not far distant when the Thetis Lake woods will be a green oasis of inestimable value in a rapidly expanding area of housing. To pass such a region on to posterity with its sylvan wealth depleted for temporary financial gain is to miss the whole point of trusteeship.

Further public voices should be added to those of three local outdoor organizations which have protested the new threat to Thetis Lake Park. But protests alone are not enough. Steps should be taken to see that the whole park is placed permanently beyond the reach of loggers.

Grants Properly Handled

THE CITY COUNCIL, OVER-RIDING the objection of one member, has discharged the duty imposed upon it by the voters by allocating $23,325 in charitable and other grants to specific recipients. This is what the electorate instructed the council to do.

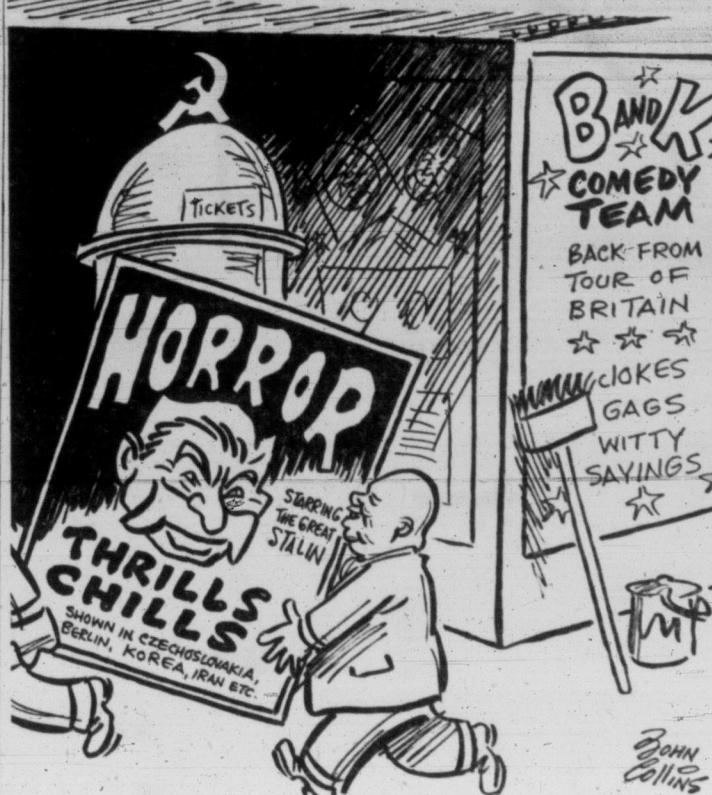

All receiving help are respected and worthy institutions in Victoria. It is to be hoped that plans to give $2,500 to the Victoria Symphony will win the approval required from the Government. This musical organization has brought pleasure to innumerable Victorians and has enhanced the city's reputation as a centre, where the refinements are appreciated.

The Symphony, by ability and effort, has been more financially successful than any group of its kind on the continent, but it still requires financial aid. The city, as the council's stand indicates, is prepared to furnish that help.

Working to Keep Us Healthy

THAT charming turned-up nose on piglets may be cute, but it's hopelessly out of date. The "retroousse" profile went out when they systematically bred hogs for longer, straight snouts. The reason? A swine disease, atrophic rhinitis, is more likely to attack pigs with upturned noses than straight ones, because they collect more filth.

I gleaned this and other tidbits on a visit to the Health of Animals division of the Department of Agriculture in the Confederation Building.

Pigs suggest garbage. But garbage is a much more complex affair than I had supposed, as well as being big business. One Canadian hotel gets $25,000 a year for its garbage output.

The feeding of garbage to swine and poultry is heavily controlled by the Federal Government to prevent the spread of diseases. Without a licence, you may not feed garbage to your own pigs or poultry if it was obtained "elsewhere, than on the premises where fed."

If you do have a licence, then you have to boil the garbage and take other precautions.

Chicken Scraps

Suppose that I buy a roast of beef, some potatoes and a cabbage at the By Ward Market, transport them to my house in the Gatineau, and cook them there, may I throw the scraps to my own chickens?

At first glance it might look as if I could not. Actually I am allowed to do this because the material arrived at the shack in the form of food, not garbage.

If I had taken them home to my house in the city, cooked them and eaten them there, I could not then transport the scraps to the Gatineau for feeding pigs or chickens, because they had become garbage.

The Health of Animals division, under Dr. K. F. Wells, Canada's veterinary director general, is interested in garbage because it is charged with controlling infectious and contagious diseases which would be likely to affect the nation if they got out of hand. Canadian Federal veterinarians are in better position to do this than their American counterparts because here the law permits them to step in against epidemics whereas in U.S. "States rights" are involved.

Under Control

Bovine tuberculosis, affecting humans as well as animals, is the division's number one task. Formerly it was widespread. Today, 85 percent of the country's cattle are under tuberculosis control. The remainder are mainly located in Alberta and Saskatchewan

Pasteurization of Milk

What a lot of nonsense some of the advocates of pasteurized milk put out. Now, one says that all raw milk should be marked with "skull and cross-bones." Are these people connected in some way with the commercial firms who benefit most from pasteurization?

Having lived for nearly seventy years without benefit of pasteurized milk, and without any kind of infection, I can safely advocate raw milk as being of far greater value than pasteurized, which loses valuable properties in the process, and is dead as compared with live raw milk.

Building 'Tubes'

As one who spent a few years in building London's underground tubes, I think Mr. Reyburn's letter in the Times June 7 is a little misleading. It may be 50 years since Charles Yerkes invested his money in London's tubes, but tubes were in London years before.

I went to London at Christmas 1899. My brother met me at Waterloo Station, as Bow, E. was our destination he said "Let's take the tube to the Bank" just a short line about 15 minutes ride end to end. During that Christmas I rode on another tube from Mortgage St. to the Elephant and Castle. The line ran beyond I believe to Clapham Common.

I went to work for Price and Reeves Contractor building a cut and cover line which connected with the inner circle at Whitechapel and the London Southend Line at Bromley by Bow. This contractor a year previous had just finished the part of the new twopenny tube from the Bank to Shepherd's Bush on which I rode in 1901. In 1902 I visited a friend at Sloane St. W. where he was helping to build a tube, which I believe was named the Brompton and Piccadilly.

In the fall of 1902 we started to build the Hampstead and Charing Cross with a branch line from Camden Town to Highgate. This line was opened about 1905 or 1906. London's blue clay which goes down for hundreds of feet is ideal for tubes, except for one or two spots where Shepherds' plaid clay is found.

This is most difficult to work. I think your correspondent should dig a little deeper for his facts of London's Tubes.

Classes' in Russia

Russia's so called Communist classless society is a myth and a mockery.

There is more class distinction in Russia and its satellites than in any country in the world. Note the wide difference in rates of pay and salaries, as in the free world those in the professions earn three or four times as much as their so-called "working class."

The most recent evidence of "classes"

FROM EMMAUS, JORDAN By JOSEPH ALSOP

The Heavy Tread of History

THE little village of Emmaus in the more familiar spelling of the Bible, is no more than a cluster of mud-built Arab houses nestling among sparse olive groves on the crown of a rocky hill.

Just down the sunlit slope there is the immortal village threshing floor, bright now with the golden harvest. A swarm of tragically thin children are cheering the work on. The old men guide the scrappy ox and bony donkey which are trampling the wheat stalks in the ancient way. And half a dozen women are briskly sifting the grain from the chaff in big basketwork sieves.

The ribbon of road winds up from the vale of Ajalon, past the threshing floor. It is the road we have been brought to inspect by Brother James Nolan, an aged, merry, lavishly bearded English Cockney monk who lives in the abandoned convent of Emmaus and works for the Trappist Fathers in their great monastery of Notre Dame de Latroun.

Brother James overflows with little jokes — for instance, he says his Trappist friends drink only "baptized wine" by which he means wine heavily diluted with water. But now his eyes' customary twinkle has been replaced by a different light.

The Right Road

Partly it is the light of combat. It angers Brother James that Biblical commentators are not sure that his Emmaus is the real Emmaus of the Bible. As for Brother James, he has no doubt about it.

Pointing to the road, with the tears of simple faith suddenly welling forth, he tells us solemnly, "there is the road where our blessed Lord, crucified for our sins, rose again from the dark tomb, met the disciples on Resurrection Morn."

Moreover, even if Brother James cannot quite prove his identification of Emmaus, this is a place that has known more history than most. Here, we are told the moon stood still, for did not Joshua give the command, "Sun stand thou still upon Gideon, and thou, moon, in the valley of Ajalon."

Here too the mighty Judah Macabees fought one of the first and bitterest battles in the Jews' long war of independence against the Seleucid heirs of Alexander the Great.

Here came the Romans when the Maccabees weakened — in the Trappist Fathers' garden, where the olive trees are shaded by clipped orange trees, white marble fragments of a Roman temple show pale in the cool gloom.

Here too came the wild desert-riders of the Caliph Omar, second successor to the Prophet, who started the transformation of the Aramaic Christian peasantry into the Muslim; and Arabs that they still are.

Here came also the Crusaders — Richard the Lion Hearted once took his Christmas dinner in the grim keep of the Knights Templar on the high crag of Latroun. Then Saladin drove the Templars from their castles, and after that there were the Turks, and after that the British, and finally the Jews returned again. And here the Arab Legion, dug is the account of the Russian ship Pobeda which will be used for European cruises this summer.

There will be four "classes" of accommodations ranging from 3,000 to 6,000, (from $750 to $1,500) for 25 days. No doubt in each class separation in accommodation and meals will occur. In the West there are now practically only two classes of travel on our ships used for pleasure and in many instances only one class, also our price for a first class trip of 25 days would not cost anything like $1,500.

The Russian people who have been "prisoners" for so long are fairly clamoring for tickets, let us hope that when they touch the European ports they will be permitted to see how the West lives compared to their own police controlled country.

It's a far cry from Karl Marx whom they profess to follow.

The Wedding

IT WAS, I think, the simplest, neatest, most natural wedding that I've ever been to. They held it out of doors on the strip of hay field that lay between the farmhouse garden and the sea.

The farmhouse wasn't much of a house, really; just a brown frame building with a wide front porch that, in summertime, served as an extra room. It had a battered couch and several chairs and a painted wooden table with the inevitable pile of books and papers and magazines.

The garden wasn't a grand garden, either. Just a cottage one with the sort of flowers we all know well. It had no real lawn for the wedding guests. So the hayfield seemed the logical place for the chairs and benches and trestle tables.

They scythed the hay a few days before the wedding and, on the day itself, it was still piled in haystacks at the edge of the field.

I can't remember what brand of minister took the service, though I do recall hearing the familiar and beautiful words, "For richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish till death do us part."

I remember very vividly the big arbutus leaning towards the beach, the cry of sea-gulls and the cawing of crows.

I remember the scent of hay and the sight of robins in a loaded cherry tree.

Best of all, I remember how, half-way through the ceremony, a tiny baby cried for a moment in its mother's arms.

All the guests at the wedding were those friends of the family or long-time neighbors. No one was invited for business reasons or to repay a social obligation. There was

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Alcoholism in Industry

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation.

In that remarkable little journal "Plantation Health," published in Hawaii by physicians who take care of the workers on the plantations, Dr. G. H. Gehrmann says that during his 40 years of practice in industrial medicine, chronic alcoholism has been one of the important health problems and the most difficult one to solve. In many cases the doctors are unable to rehabilitate the alcoholic.

As Dr. Gehrmann says, one of the troubles in the past has been that so many persons have thought that the alcoholic is a bad man who could behave himself if he wanted to. But no, the alcoholic is sick. He is miserable and terribly unhappy—so much so that often he thinks of suicide. He is suffering from a chronic nervous disease which, if untreated, will lead to total permanent disability or death. The doctor emphasizes the importance of starting treatment early, while the man has enough will power left with which to fight his way back to health.

He says that discharging an alcoholic doesn't do much good; it simply passes the problem on to some other employer, and finally to the people of the community who have to care for the man and eventually for his dependents. The doctor reminds us that in a big company it costs some $5,000 to train an efficient operator, and $25,000 to train a research chemist. If the man then becomes ruined by alcohol this investment is lost.

For 28 years the DuPonts, with whom Dr. Gehrmann works, pursued the old-fashioned policy of scolding the alcoholic, telling him to stop, threatening him with discharge, and then firing him. Much time, effort and money were spent on each patient, but all to no avail. The cost to the company was high and the results were nil.

Then, one day, a man came in who told the doctor that he had been an alcoholic and had been straightened out by Alcoholics Anonymous. He suggested that the doctor attend a few meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous and learn something about alcoholics. The doctor went and soon saw why he had been failing to help these men. Going back to his office, he hired Dave, a cured chronic alcoholic and an old member of AA, as his special assistant. Together they went to work.

First, they planned for the education of alcoholics, and particularly the men who were beginning to slip. These men were treated as sick patients—not bad men. They needed sympathy and understanding—not criticism and intolerance. They needed to be recognized and helped early, because once alcoholism has progressed to the stage of mental deterioration, the person may be incurable.

Few men who have reached the gutter feel that they have any incentive left to try to better themselves.

What are the early signs of alcoholism? Usually the man's boss or foreman or supervisor can quickly recognize the symptoms. One of the first signs is that the man does not show up on Monday. This is practically a give-away; it tells the story. No other disease so consistently makes a man ill on Monday. On Tuesday the man is cross, irritable and hard to get along with. He makes mistakes, and his work is not well done. He does not look well; he hasn't shaved well; his clothes are not neat; his eyes become reddened and puffy and weary, and his hands tremble.

Under Dr. Gehrmann's new plan, the man's supervisor takes him aside and has a kindly talk with him, telling him that he is failing behind in his work. He must do better. He is sent to the doctor who, again, talks to him in a kindly way, but insists that the fellow realize that he is coming down with a very serious disease, and one that can easily destroy and kill him. He is told that he must immediately become a total abstainer and must continue so far for the rest of his life. He can never drink again. He will never be safe again, but he can go straight if he wants to badly enough. He is told that he must really want to stop drinking, and he must want help, or he will surely go on down hill.

He is reminded that Alcoholics Anonymous will have nothing to do with him unless he frankly admits that he is an alcoholic and in need of help. Too often the alcoholic is the last man to admit that he is in trouble. Too often his friends fail to help him because they are reluctant to say anything to him about his disease.

If the man agrees that he needs help and says he wants it, then the doctor keeps in touch with him for at least three months. If he refuses help, or maintains that he doesn't need it, not much can be done for him.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP) — Reports of good rains throughout the Prairie grain belt brought selling in most grain on the Winnipeg grain exchange today.

Wheat was particularly easier with heavy losses recorded in July contracts and other wide declines for other months. A few shipping orders showed in the grain but were not broad. Rye also showed hesitation and had the occasional American order.

Oats and barley showed some resistance to the decline and the prices were irregular. Commercial demand was generally quiet but domestic shipping purchases were made in oats while barley had small sales exported to the United Kingdom.

Weekend export loadings of Canadian wheat included: 1,000,000 bushels to Japan, 85,000 to the United Kingdom, 20,000 to Belgium.

Lakehead prices for Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat unchanged except IWA and domes Nos. 1 and 2 durums which were both down one-quarter cent.

The range of gains and losses stayed generally within a point, but Gulf Oil fell back close to 2 points as oil stocks lost their earlier firmness.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Lower were Aluminium Ltd. and Hudson Bay Mining, both down 1%. International Nickel, off 1%. McIntyre, off 1% and Dome Mines, off 1%. Higher were Granby Mining, up 1%, Walker-Gooderham, up 1%, and Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagulls, both ahead 1%.

In the American stock exchange higher Canadian issues included Shawinigan, up 1%, and Great West Grass Oil and Jupiter Oils, ahead 1-16. Lower were Brazilian Traction, Canadian Marconi and Preston East. Dome, each down 1%, and Fargo Oil, Sapphire Petroleum and Wilrich Petroleum, each down 1-16.

Other grains also weakened. Oats, new crop corn and new crop soybeans were sold following weekend rains in parts of the midwestern United States plus a forecast for more scattered showers.

Wheat tended lower on increased hedging pressure while rice went down with wheat.

Oils were firm under American influence. Trinidad Oil was quiet and unchanged.

Interest in industrials was at a low ebb and most leaders were a few pence weaker. Steels were steady but certain heavy engineering and electrical equipment issues were easier. Transatlantic stocks were firm with International Nickel, Hudson's Bay and Borax deferred up slightly.

Closing prices: Babcock and Wilcox 76s, Blyloors 22s 6d, Bowater Paper 53s 6d, Hudson's Bay Co. 182s 3d, Imperial Chemicals 44s 41d, Imperial Tobacco 47s. Metal Box 52s 3d, Mexican Eagle 20s 6d, Rand Mines 62s 6d, Vickers 41s 9d.

Bonds: British 2½% consols £232, British 3½% war loans £71 11-16, British fundings 4s 1960-90 388%.

The Financial Times daily index of London stocks 178.4, off 1.3.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters) — The stock market was quiet and uncertain today with business restricted and interest confined to a few specialties.

Oils were firm under American influence. Trinidad Oil was quiet and unchanged.

VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER — An active market with prices moving up. Quatsino taking the spotlight with a sale of 49,500 shares ranging from 83 to 89.

Cowichan Copper sold 26,600 between $2.85 and $2.85. Mid West Copper traded 4,200 at 62. Bethlehem Copper moved 6,200 between $1.38 and $1.40. Skeena sold 6,500 at 22. Van-Tor traded 7,000 at $1.31. Sparmac sold 4,000 at 27. Gas sold 6,000 going up to 7.

Remington Arms, one of the leading manufacturers of sporting firearms, ammunition and accessories, said acquisition of the Chicago firm is "a further means of diversifying our product lines."

Mall, with plants in Chicago, Crete, Ill., and Toronto, produces portable electric tools, pneumatic tools, power saws, flexible shaft equipment and other power tools.

In addition to its production facilities, Mall operates a network of warehouses and offices in several major cities in the U.S. and Canada.

It is his first long cruise since he acquired Caronia about a year ago.

The main lounge is reminiscent of the lobby of the Empress Hotel; richly panelled, with deep lounge chairs, coffee tables, and broad windows, it is equipped with an electric organ, high fidelity radio, and record player, and television.

The master suite extends the full 27 feet of the ship's beam, and shows no indication of being aboard ship. Even the ports are screened off with translucent glass windows in Tudor style.

Capt. W. B. Studley of Caronia is back at his pre-war profession of skippering pleasure craft. During the Second World War he commanded attack transports in the South Pacific, and earlier was on fast convoy service in the North Atlantic.

On the night of September 26, 1934, Aunt Bessie and I boarded the Manhattan at Le Havre, she to return to the United States, while I would get off at Southampton. Although the Prince had vanished, with a gay wave of the hand, the spell of the cruise lingered on.

Whatever had happened, if indeed anything really had, seemed altogether unreal.

Was I allowing myself to drift into a dangerous situation?

My always-perceptive aunt must have sensed my underlying preoccupation. As we were having dinner she asked in what she hoped would appear an off-hand way, "Wallis, isn't the Prince rather taken with you?"

"Whatever makes you think that?" I asked.

These old eyes aren't so old that they can't see what's in his every glance."

Aunt Bessie's forthrightness shook me. I did not know what to say. Was the Prince really attracted to me—or was he only attracted by the enchanted weeks that we had shared amid romantic surroundings?

I finally answered, "I would like to think that he is truly fond of me."

My aunt looked hard at me. "Isn't all this very dangerous for you? If you let yourself enjoy this kind of life it will make you very restless and dissatisfied with everything you've ever known before."

"You don't know what you're talking about," I said. With true Montague arrogance I added, "I'm having a marvelous time. It's all great fun. You don't have to worry about me—I know what I'm doing."

FOREBODING NOTE

Aunt Bessie sighed. "Very well, have it your own way. But I tell you that wiser people than you have been carried away, and I can see no happy outcome to such a situation."

On this foreboding note we finished our dinner, leaving me with much unsaid and far more still unresolved in my own mind. My common sense could not believe that the illusion created by the past weeks was anything more than that—but my not-so-common sense could argue equally that the emotion I had sensed in him, however ephemeral, could not really be an illusion. As I well knew, and as, within the limits of mase-line discretion, the Prince had told me there had been several

Fall Election for B.C. Seen by Esquimalt Socred

George Bonner, president of the Esquimalt Social Credit Association, believes there may be a provincial general election this fall, between Sept. 23 and Oct. 6.

"The government knows public opinion is with it at the present time, and it would be logical for Premier Bennett to take the tide at its flow," Mr. Bonner told the Times.

"From my experience of politics, I would say that circumstances are propitious for an Saskatchewan election."

Mr. Bonner said "a responsible official" had told the Esquimalt Social Credit group there would be an election during the last week in September or the first week in October.

PRIVATE MEETING

"I am honor-bound not to reveal this official's name," Mr.

Bonner added. "He was speaking at a private meeting of the ermine in this province. Nor Social Credit Provincial Constituency Association and it was agreed that we would not disclose his name."

"We in British Columbia are not generally influenced by what happens in other provinces. We make our own decisions in the light of local conditions."

"That has been my experience in 45 years of politics in this province."

OWN DECISION

"I don't think B.C. was the least bit influenced by Alberta."

Why did we pledge

the finest gasolines there are!

We did it to simplify things for you. You have no facilities for studying the composition of various gasolines... but we have. And rather than claim this feature or that ingredient we have made a solemn pledge: "We will not permit a single competitor to offer gasolines superior to our new B-A 88 and 98 gasolines." When you buy B-A you can rest assured—there is no finer gasoline available.

Boy, 12, Kills Seattle Child, 4

SEATTLE (AP) — A 12-year-old boy, plucked by police from a home, told Swindler: "I choked the little girl. I don't know why I did it." He admitted abusing the girl sexually.

The little girl's violated body, a green and white playsuit stuffed in her mouth, had been found only a few hours earlier under the floorboards of an old, unused garage near her home. She had been missing since Saturday.

Ray John Barker, one of several youngsters who used the garage as a clubhouse, was taken into custody by police as the excursion bus arrived back in town. He was taken to headquarters where at first he stoutly refused to answer questions put to him by detective Herbert Swindler. Then, point-blank, Swindler asked:

"You killed her, didn't you?"

NO EMOTION

After a short pause, Swindler said, the boy replied with no show of emotion: "Yes."

In a later signed confession the boy said he met the little girl at a street corner near her home Saturday and followed her when she turned down an alley and went into the abandoned garage.

Young Barker, who lives with his mother, Mrs. Carmi Meske,

Jazzman Dies in Fire in Hollywood Apartment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Guitarist Billy Dillard, 30, a member of the Red Norvo jazz trio, burned to death early Sunday when fire swept through his apartment. A weekend guest of Dillard's, Robert Tully, 28, a college student and trumpet player, was seriously burned. Firemen said the fire apparently started from a lighted cigarette.

Yeggs Scared Away Before Vault Blasted

VANCOUVER (CP) — An attempt to blast open a vault at a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia on Granville Street was thwarted Sunday.

Burglars ripped plaster and lath off the wall of an art gallery adjacent to the bank. Police believe they were frightened away by passersby before they could carry out their plan to dynamite the bank wall.

A quantity of safe-breaking tools, mattresses and accessories used in the handling of explosives was turned over to police by Alex Fraser, owner of the gallery.

A crow bar was used to gain entry to the gallery. Then the intruders neatly moved paintings worth $1,000 which blocked their way to the bathroom which adjoins the bank building.

Mr. Fraser said he found the bathroom "in a complete mess" when he entered the building at 10:15 a.m. Sunday.

A quarter-inch hole was drilled about four inches into the bank wall and another hole had been started.

E. E. Boutilier, manager of the bank, said the entire business block of four stores "would have been blown sky-high" if the burglars had succeeded in blasting their way to the vault, which is protected by a six-inch concrete wall and 1½ inches of steel casing.

Australia has an estimated 102,000,000 acres of forested land, but only 55,000,000 acres is considered to be commercial timber.

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec residents vote Wednesday to decide between giving a fourth consecutive term of office to the Union Nationale party or restoring the provincial Liberal party to the popularity it enjoyed during most of the first half of the century.

The campaign has been a straight two-party fight with neither the other two parties entered — the Social Democratic party (CCF) nor the Labor-Progressive party (Communist) — having enough candidates to take power.

The Union Nationale — born in 1936 of a union of the provincial

CONFUSING TO VOTERS

Premier Duplessis' 66-year-old leader of the Union Nationale, is in his seventh campaign as a provincial party leader.

He headed the provincial Conservative party in 1933 and was defeated by Alexandre Taschereau's Liberal party. In 1936, after the merger of the Conservatives and Liberal rebels, he was elected and remained in office until 1939.

The Liberals, under Adelard Godbout, now a senator, regained power in 1939 but were defeated by the Union Nationale in 1944.

In 1948 and 1952, Premier Duplessis' party swamped the opposition at the polls.

The Union Nationale won 68 of the 92 seats at stake in the last election. The Liberals, led by Georges-Emile Lepage, took 23 and one Independent was elected.

FEDERAL SUPPORT

Mr. Lepage, a former member of the House of Commons who was chosen to revive the party after it won only eight seats in 1948, is again leading the Liberals in the present campaign.

Federal Liberals, reluctant to enter the campaign in 1948 and 1952, are showing greater support this year. Four members of the federal cabinet — Veterans' Affairs Minister Lapointe, Transport Minister Marler, Northern Affairs Minister Lesage and State Secretary Pinard — have spoken in favor of provincial Liberal candidates.

There has been little interest in the campaign for city voters but in rural areas, everyone seems to have joined in.

SEVENTH CAMPAIGN

Parades, often miles long, preceded speeches by party leaders. It was all a bit confusing to U. S. tourists, who often were trapped in the horn-tooting cavalcade.

Their confusion is probably no greater than that of the voters in some ridings. In Montreal St. Mary's, held in the last legislature by Liberal Yvon Dupuis, one of the other four candidates is also named Yvon Dupuis. He is running as an Independent.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Christopher Eades, 16-year-old Boy Scout, was rescued by RCAF Helicopter Sunday after being injured in a fall about 15 miles northeast of Vancouver. He was taken to Shaughnessy military hospital where he was reported in fairly satisfactory condition.

The boy suffered severe head injuries in a 35-foot fall on an overnight hike with his friend, William Berney, near Lake Buntzen. The boys undertook the hike to get their first-class Scout certificates.

Practice Court Justice Georges S. Challies ruled that a writ of mandamus which Caron, a member of the Labor Progressive (Communist) party, sought against the CBC could not legally be issued.

Andy send a complete, 15-volumes set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Terry Newson, aged 12, Tulsa, Okla., for his question:

How Do You Start An Insect Collection?

School will soon be out. Summer invites us outdoors. There are more things to fascinate us. More questions come up — if that is possible. We can't run to Miss Patience, Andy's favorite teacher, for she is on vacation, too. So, let's start a collection. It is one happy, natural way to satisfy the curiosity without headaches.

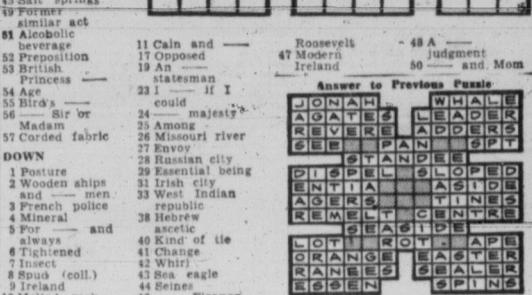

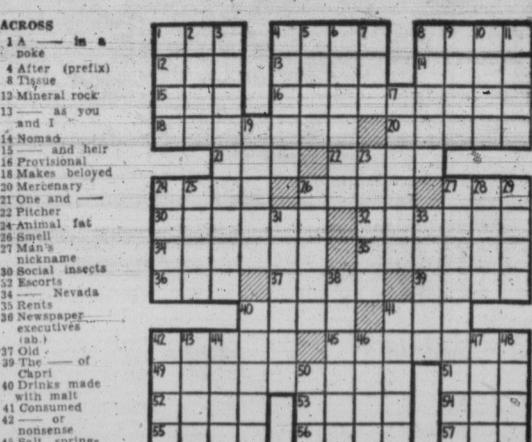

Choose something like rocks, shells, leaves, flowers. Terry chose insects so he has a fine summer ahead. For there are plenty, of specimens everywhere. Facts about them are easy to get. A little practice, and the skills of mounting the collection are simple.

An insect collection is arranged in boxes. A beginner can use cigar boxes with floors or corrugated cardboard. The specimens are displayed on special, long thin pins. Each is labeled. You may use the everyday name or the fancy Latin name. Andy prefers both names, for each name usually tells something about a creature.

So far, over 625,000 different insects have been named and classified by the experts. They have divided the huge tribe into families. Flies, beetles, butterflies, grasshoppers and bees belong in different insect families. A butterfly won't look right mounted in a box of beetles. Your gift encyclopedia will help you get this straight. And libraries are open all summer for extra information. A small insect field book will also help.

Every boy knows how to catch bugs. You may figure out some new tricks and learn others from books and friends. Put the live catch into a gauze-covered glass jar. Have ready another jar with sawdust in the bottom. Sprinkle in drops of carbon tetrachloride—a sort of cleaning fluid. This is the insect's gas chamber. Don't worry when you put him inside. He won't feel a thing. Cover the top with a card filled with pin-pricks. Naturally the insect must be quite dead before you mount him.

Your fingers need practice to get the pins in straight. Begin with grasshoppers. When you can mount one high and dry on his display pin, you are ready to tackle smaller and then smaller insects.

Andy sends a Hammond International World Globe to Frank Schimaneck, Jr., age 9, of Allentown, Penn., for his question: How does night fall?

Nightfall is a poetic expression for the coming of dark ness. We have day and night because the big earth is spinning around. Use your finger to set your gift globe turning. It turns around exactly as the big earth turns.

Millions of miles away from the earth is a huge, blazing star. We call it the sun. Day and night it blazes away, pouring out its light in all directions.

As the earth turns, first one side, then another is facing the sun. The side facing the sun is bathed in the light of day. The other side is resting in the shade of night.

But not for long. For the earth is forever turning. The night side turns around towards the sun and wakes up to greet the morning. All day long it is lit with beams of sunlight. Meantime it is steadily turning towards evening and the shade of night. The shadows of night fall all around us as our bit of earth moves away from the sunlight.

Stratford Opens Festival Tonight

160,000 Expected to Attend 113 Drama, Music Sessions

By BILL BOSS

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — The first audiences are arriving. More than 60 drama critics from points between Vancouver, New York and London, England, have assembled. The dress rehearsals are over.

For today the fourth annual Stratford Shakespearean Festival opens.

And for nine weeks, during which an expected 160,000 visitors will see 113 drama and music presentations near the bank of the Anouih-Lillian Hellman version of Avon river, this city of 20,000 in Joan of Arc's story.

STARTS TONIGHT

His Queen Katharine is Ginette Letondal, also of Montreal, one of a group of French-speaking actors participating this year for the first time. Headed by actor-author Gratien Gelinas, the Montrealers portray the French court.

Douglas Campbell of Toronto is Falstaff in "The Wives," played by Eleanor Stuart and Pauline Jameson.

The festival opens with "Henry" tonight. "The Wives" follows Tuesday night.

This year the musical base is broadened, retaining a weighty program of serious music and opera, including the first Canadian production of Benjamin Britten's opera, "The Rape of Lucretia," and incorporating a series of jazz concerts, to be given with commentary, by the New Orleans orchestra of Wilbur de Paris, pianist Willie (the Lion) Smith, Duke Ellington and his orchestra, Toronto pianist Cal Jackson and his group, the Dave Brubeck quartet and the Art Tatum trio.

Liberace's Other Brother Held as Burglary Suspect

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Rudolph L. Liberace, 24, brother of TV's piano-playing star, was booked on suspicion of burglary early today after officers said he caused a disturbance.

Officers reported they found the young man in his parked car near the Dick Miller residence in Granada Hills. They said Miller identified him as the man who earlier had rapped on his door with a piece of rubber hose, shouting: "I know you've got my wife in there!"

Police quoted young Liberace, a film editor at Warner Bros., as telling them he was looking for his wife, and had taken a few drinks in the course of the search. They said he was being held because his description matched that of a suspect in several unsolved burglaries. Young Liberace denied any connection.

The film editor's famous brother, Liberace, was distressed to hear of the arrest. He described Rudolph as a "wonderful brother" and added: "It's just unfortunate for Rudy that he's my brother. Otherwise I don't think anything would be made of this."

Emcee's 'Hint' May Force Rerun Of $64,000 Challenge on Art

NEW YORK (AP) — An apparent slip-of-the-tongue hint from an exec master of ceremonies has forced a television quiz show to review a decision on who won its $64,000 jackpot.

Actor Vincent Price and key Bill Pearson tied again Sunday night in answering art questions on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Challenge. The two were awarded $32,000 each.

But CBS said later: "After the program went off the air CBS said master of ceremonies Sonny Fox 'apparently' dropped a hint to Pearson. Listeners also reported hearing a voice give the answer before Pearson answered.

"In fairness to all concerned, the program's producers will study a kinescope film of the program . . . to arrive at a decision as to what disposition shall be made of tonight's Pearson-Price contest."

Both had a tough time identifying Michaelangelo's monogram, which resembled Chinese writing, but both eventually came up with the answer.

But CBS said later:

"After the program went off the air, however, it came to the attention of the producers that Sonny Fox appeared inadvertently to have indicated the name Michaelangelo to Pearson."

Lake Cowichan Firemen Tops In Life-Saving

YEWBOU (CP)—A realistic life-saving contest, featuring a smoke-filled bunk house in which two people waited to be rescued, was held Saturday as part of the Vancouver Island Firefighters' Association convention.

The competition, in which fire brigades vied with each other to effect the speediest and most efficient simulated rescue, was won by Lake Cowichan detachment under Captain Bob Weismiller. The Ladysmith brigade under George Muir placed second.

By winning, Lake Cowichan took possession of the Allen Cup, top trophy at the convention.

In another life-saving contest, Langford Fire Department under Captain Lou Hagen emerged as the winner, with Ladysmith second and Lake Cowichan third.

180 ATTEND

Prizes were presented at a banquet Saturday night attended by about 180 persons, including members of the Great Central Lakes Ladies' Fire Brigade, which also held its convention.

In elections held Sunday, Charlie Wilson of Nanaimo was named president of the Firefighters' Association and Bill CHEMAINUS—Maurice Attkins, Ganges, was charged in municipal police court this week with disturbing the oyster lease of Cmdr. G. B. Barnes, Crofton.

Evidence was introduced to show the accused had picked oysters from the lease and disturbed oyster seed. Atkins was fined $15 and $3.50 costs by acting magistrate R. F. Barnes of Duncan.

Nanaimo baseball club in the mid-Island League has been fined $25 by Al Dyer, league president, for failing to turn up last week for a game against Chemainus.

At the same time the Chemainus club was given the game by default with an automatic score of 9-0.

It was the seventh win of the season by the local club over Nanaimo, and three of them have been by default.

As a result of the failure to play, Mr. Dyer ordered all remaining week-night games in the league cancelled. In future only Sunday games will have a bearing on final standings.

Stuart A. Clement and Jack Jamieson have been elected

2,000 Thrill To Boat Race

LAKE COWICHAN—A crowd of 2,000 persons witnessed a program of speedboat racing Sunday afternoon at Rounds beach during the first regatta staged by Lake Cowichan Boat Club.

Dave McKay of Vancouver drove his 135-cubic inch hydroplane to a victory on points over Joe Van Bergen of Alberni, but Van Bergen won the inboard open championship.

Bob Cameron of Victoria won the "B" utility inboard class, and Al Wilson, Vancouver, won the "crackerbox" division for inboard runabouts powered with V-8 engines.

Jim Simpson of Alberni drove his big D stock outboard hydroplane to a two-hat win over Bruce Campbell of Vancouver, but Doug Hurd of Vancouver won the "B" outboard hydroplane division. Runners-up were Michael Gunn, Lake Cowichan; Bill Young, Vancouver; and Ron Gorlak, Chilliwack.

Alex Stevenson of Nanaimo won the popular "B" utility outboard runabout class. Percy Stacey of Nanaimo, who won the first heat, finished second in the final heat to give Stevenson the win on the basis of best elapsed time.

Winners in the service outboard classes were Larry Maxwell, Mesachie Lake, and Phil Brab, Chemainus, and Chuck Downman, Vancouver, won the 36-inch outboard class.

Two Vancouver drivers, Bill Young and M. Michaelson, joined the helldivers' club by flipping their outboard hydroplanes on the choppy course.

NEW PICNIC TABLES AND BEACH EXTENSION
by Beaver-Elk Lake Swim Committee are examined

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

It's alright to have a weekend, as long as you know which end is your weekend.

Few fathers enjoyed the eve of Father's Day as much as Harold Moles did.

With the connivance of both her parents, Harold's teenage daughter organized a beach party for Saturday evening. And the deal was, all her pals were to meet at the Moles' home.

Well, they did. Twenty of them. Shortly after the influx began, Harold found himself in the back alley, seated upon a garbage can, and brooding about the facts of life.

It would be grand to be a father, Harold brooded, especially on the eve of Father's Day, if it weren't for the fact one has to have children to be a father.

And then there is the case of Sandy Fleming, age six. Sandy sang his first solo in St. Paul's Garrison Church on Sunday.

Was Sandy, age six, nervous? Nope.

Was Norah Fleming, who happens to be Sandy's mother, nervous?

Of course. After all, it was Father's Day, and Cmdr. Fleming was busy being a father to be nervous. Much.

Not much else happened over the weekend. Except Tony Dickason dropped in for a bit of advice. He said he had been reading Saturday Night during the afternoon, and was this wrong timing?

I said he needn't worry, I had just been listening to Doris Day singing "All Through the Night."

Tony and I then sat down to discuss the relationship of Doris Day to Saturday Night; when who should we hear but Norm Pringle, announcing that "National give Elvis Presley a Rest Week" was about to begin.

This, of course, shook us to the core. Imagine, a whole week without hearing Elvis Presley! But then Pringle fixed everything up for us. As a finale to precede "Elvis Presley," he played three of the dear man's recordings, all at once.

Tony and I were happy to find out Pringle isn't REALLY against Elvis. Because Tony and I, we don't dislike him. Just that we can't stand him.

And then I wound up the weekend with a chat with Steve Mellors, whose meteorological experts have charted a secret course across Juan de Fuca Strait.

What I didn't say to Steve, and probably should, is that he forgot to let Old Man Juan in on the secret.

As for me, I'm waiting for the men to bring me my Strait jacket, Juan de Fuca Strait, that is.

So. Which end IS the weekend?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Flower lovers will find Beacon Hill park rose garden at its best toward the end of next week, parks administrator W. H. Warren said today.

Bush roses will be in full bloom but climbers suffered such serious frost damage during winter months they are not expected to bloom this year, although new growth has been rapid.

Victoria Ald. Geoffrey L. Edgell will address a Kinsmen meeting June 28 on the subject of provision of beaches on the part of the city.

Ald. Edgell, who is also chairman of the Gorge Improvement Association, will ask the clubmen to undertake beach construction and provision of bathing houses as a civic project at the old public bathing area below Tillicum road bridge.

Carl Carlson, 1820 Adanac, was fined $45 and restricted to driving for business purposes only for three months when he was convicted in city court to day of careless driving June 8. His car was in collision with another auto at Linden and Richmond.

Ronald Groutage, Victoria, and Raymond Fraser, Sidney, each paid $10 fines when convicted on counts of speeding through a school zone and failing to stop at a stop sign, when they appeared before Justice of the Peace D. G. Ashby in Sidney RCMP court.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Kiwans Club: Empress Hotel, Georgian lounge, luncheon, 12:10.

Canadian Mental Health Association: 1530 Pandora Avenue, discussion group, 8 p.m.

Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion: BESL, 7:45 p.m.

Kiwans Club, Victoria North: Monterey restaurant, 6:15 p.m. Dr. Adam Beattie will discuss and show a film on the Children's Health Centre.

St. Luke's 60-Up Club: St. Luke's parish hall, 2:30 p.m.

National Office Management Association: Pacific Club, 5:30 p.m. Installation of officers.

Lions Club: Esquimalt: Old England Inn, 6:30 p.m.

BROTHER OF VC WINNER

Capt. George Gordon McLean, who died accidentally in 1926, John McLean, 1045 Balmoral, leaves Tuesday via TCA for VC centennial celebrations in London later this month.

Capt. McLean won his VC at Arras in April, 1918; also won the MC and MM. Victoria's Mr. McLean has lived here since 1919 and came to Canada in 1904. Hero brother was killed when a saw broke loose in a lumber plant near London, England.

Though held on Labor Day last year, the 1956 swim will take place Saturday, Sept. 1, and the program of entertainment will give joint emphasis to the 50th anniversary of the municipality of Saanich.

The 34-member Beaver-Elk Lake swim committee is currently improving beach facilities at Beaver Lake where the two-mile marathon swim ends. (Start is at Happyland on Elk Lake.)

BEACH EXTENSION

Volunteers from the committee are now extending the Beaver Lake beach, have already cleared about 250 feet at the southwest end of the old beach and plan to go another 200 feet toward the old filter tank area.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks committee provided $3,000 to the project and this has been allotted for new parkland, new road work and new beaches and tables for lakeside picnicking.

About $500 was donated for construction of a new diving float about 25x35 feet in area. The float will have two diving boards, as this year's swim will include diving competition as well as other shorter races.

Sunday work was aided by a bulldozer loaned and operated by Jim Henderson and a power saw similarly provided by Charles Constable. Gravel was provided by McIntyre and Hardie as a donation. Other committee workers included Al Fairburn, Charles Douglas, Ed Anderson and Wilf Sadler, vice-chairman.

Ten trucks are expected to haul sand and gravel to the new beach area next weekend, the chairman stated.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Soft Suede and Kid Purses From the Land of Greece

By PENNY SAVER

IMPORTED . . . that's the magic word that draws shoppers to view and admire and eventually buy special items being shown in downtown stores. Who would think that anything so common place as a change purse could cause such interest? These that I found are made of the softest kid and suede, and come in every shade imaginable. They are the long, pouch-style purses with snap closings. The bottom of the pouch folds up and snaps to the top of the purse. When unfolded, it discloses a fold to hold bills. The whole purse is suede lined. They're made in Greece, and come in yellow, pale blue, tan, pink, brown, green, red, gold, navy, maroon, black, and purple. You can buy one for $2.95.

Newlyweds Make Home In Victoria

PO Malcolm Longmuir, RCN, and his bride, the former Miss Ruth Doreen Fenn have returned from a honeymoon spent motorizing in the interior, and are now living in Victoria.

Padre J. E. Williams officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Fenn, Regina, Sask., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Guest, Ellery street, Lieut.-Cottrell, RCN, was organist, and played traditional wedding music.

The bride chose for the ceremony a net and lace over taffeta gown fashioned with a lace jacket with lily point sleeves. A seed pearl tiara held her chapel veil. Red roses and white feathered carnations were in her bridal bouquet.

Miss Helen Fenn, sister of the bride, was the attendant. She wore a blue lace and net over taffeta gown with matching jacket and headress. Her bouquet was of pink and white stocks. Best man was Cadet Gordon Longmuir, RCN, and ushers, PO R. E. Fitchett, RCN and PO R. A. Caught, RCN.

Naval Veterans' Auditorium was decorated with summer flowers in blue and white with the naval ensign for a reception which followed the ceremony. A hand-embroidered cloth covered the bride's table, which was centred with a three-tier cake decorated with rosebuds and anchors. Dan Barr proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece coral dress with all-white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The newlyweds will move into their new home at 934 Ellery street in the near future.

Post-Rehearsal Party

Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. K. Reid, Harlow Drive, entertained at a bridal supper for Miss Brenda Lister and Mr. Paul Hanson, whose wedding took place Saturday evening. Among guests at the post-rehearsal party were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hanson of Potlatch, Idaho, parents of the groom; best man, Mr. Paul Tobin; ushers, Mr. Charles Bauer, Mr. David Lister, Mr. Jay Webb and Mr. John Payne; bridesmaids, Miss Alyce Sweeney and Miss Maxine Parks, and maid of honor, Miss Beverly Gregg. Also present were Mr. A. Lister of Vancouver and Mrs. Claudia Lister, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Helmcken and Mrs. Jack McEachron and daughters, Paula and Pam.

Visitors From Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Weiner and daughters, Beatrice and Lisa, have arrived from Houston, Texas, and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Alexander, 2800 Lincoln Road. After spending a few days here, they will go to Vancouver to visit Mrs. Weiner's mother. They will then fly to Los Angeles to visit Mrs. J. M. Wartels, Mrs. Weiner's sister. The family expects to return to Houston in late July.

A June Bride-To-Be

Miss Catherine Kennedy, whose marriage to Mr. Walter Douglas takes place soon, was guest of honor recently at a grocery shower when Mrs. James Kendrew and Mrs. Norm Harlan entertained at the home of the latter, at 1335 Bay Street. The many useful gifts were presented in a giant wedding cake. On her arrival, the bride-to-be was presented with a pink carnation corsage. Her mother, Mrs. A. Kennedy, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. W. Douglas, received red carnation corsages. Invited were Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. J. Bowen, Mrs. R. Petkovich, Mrs. J. Parkford, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. W. H. Robbins, Mrs. D. McCaig, Mrs. J. McCrindle, Mrs. A. Linn, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. P. Ferguson, Mrs. H. Campbell, Mrs. R. Whysner, Misses Marion Kennedy, Mary Duggan, Lorna Campbell, Diane Smith, Cathy Kendrew, Linda Kendrew and Peggy Kendrew.

Louella Kalk Honored

Mrs. F. M. Sutton and Miss Eunice Kalk were co-hostesses at a shower honoring Miss Louella Kalk. The party was held at the home of Mrs. F. M. Sutton, 2464 Plumer Street. Miss Kalk was presented with a corsage of red roses. Her mother, Mrs. Vera Kalk, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. B. Denison, received corsages of gladioli. BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN . . . BY HOUSEZ

Kevin Leslie Corke leads off this week's layout of children visiting or resident of the Greater Victoria area. Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean L. Corke, 1634 Capilano road, North Vancouver. He is 13 months old and has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan McCollum, 3359 Salsbury way. Picture No. 2 is of Lois Elaine Downs, 12 Kildev road, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Downs.

Altrusa Club Honors Member From England

Mrs. B. K. Ross of "The Pines," Heronsgate, Rickmansworth, Eng., was guest at an Altrusa tea held in her honor recently at the home of a member, Mrs. Ursula Slack, Stewart Avenue, View Royal. A beautifully appointed tea table covered with an heirloom lace cloth was centred with blue and white flowers. Mrs. Slack, Miss Marion Bolingbroke and Miss Jess Robinson presided at the tea table. Mrs. Ross was welcomed by Mrs. Grace Morrow, and presented with a white carnation corsage and a hand-carved dogwood pin as a memento of her visit in British Columbia. Many Altrusa clubs have received Mrs. Ross on her trip. Among them are San Francisco, Stockton, Los Angeles and Vancouver. Colored slides taken at the Altrusa 10th District Conference in May were shown, illustrating the achievements and aims of the district, which included Idaho, Oregon, Washington and B.C. On her return to England, Mrs. Ross will organize the summer reception committee of London Altrusas to entertain the many Altrusas visiting from all over the world. Following the tea, Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Miss Kathleen Hunter were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Morrow, Olde Charming Inn, Oak Bay.

Queen City Chapter No. 5, OES, garden party Wednesday from 2:30 to 4:30 at the home of Mrs. F. Westmorland, 1973 Crescent road. Guests to take No. 2 Gonzales Crescent bus.

PIONEER MISSIONARY

West Relics Given To Winnipeg Church

WINNIPEG (CP) — A delayed school for boys, was in England with the RCAF in the summer of 1954. He was due to leave for Canada but his plane was late so he strolled into the church at North Luffenham.

Canon Field struck up a conversation with Mr. Taylor and learned the airmen was going to Winnipeg.

As Mr. Taylor was leaving, Canon Field gave him a manuscript and asked him to present it to St. John's cathedral.

Mr. Shave was delighted to receive the manuscript which turned out to be the original of John West's diary — The British North American Indians With Free Thoughts on the Red River Settlement.

Mr. Shave wrote a series of letters to Canon Field, inquiring if he had anything else. As a result of the correspondence, the English rector decided to send the rest of the collection to Winnipeg.

PAINTINGS OF INDIANS

The collection includes scenes of Indian life done in watercolors by Mr. West, and framed in wood from the wreck of HMS Royal George, a ship that slipped its moorings at Portsmouth, Aug. 28, 1792, and sank with 1,100 persons aboard.

There are authentic Indian relics including a stone-bowled peace pipe, polished buffalo horns, beaded collars, glass beads and a sort of two-headed whisk described as an "arrow cleaner."

A document, dated 1837, measuring more than two feet square, is Mr. West's last will and testament. Affixed to it is a codicil of similar proportions.

Mr. West served at the Red River settlement from 1820 to 1823.

Mr. Shave says one of the most interesting items in the collection is a sketch of the church mission house at Red River. Copies of the sketch have appeared in books and articles.

"Now we have the priceless original, and know it was done by Mr. West himself."

Mr. Shave said the collection will likely go to the provincial archives and the Manitoba museum.

Shirley Stalls U.S. Advance

WIMBLEDON, England (UP) — Shirley Bloomer of England forestalled an anticipated American victory in the Wightman Cup tennis tournament today when she defeated Dorothy Head Knod of Forest Hills, N.Y., 6-4, 6-4.

Miss Bloomer's victory reduced the United States lead to 3-1 in the best-of-seven-match series. America swept two singles matches and a doubles contest on Friday to assume a 3-0 lead. The four windup matches — three singles and one doubles — was postponed until today because of a heavy downpour on Saturday.

America thus needed only one victory today to clinch the Wightman Cup trophy for the 20th straight time.

FIRST SQUAMISH-VANCOUVER TRAIN

The first Pacific Great Eastern train to travel on new line from Squamish, B.C., 40 miles south to Vancouver passes through a section of West Vancouver. Ralph Chetwynd, B.C. railways minister, waves his hat to residents. This inaugural run was made just 24 hours after the last spike was driven. The provincial-owned line now links Vancouver with the rich Peace River.

Australia Opens Crack-Down Against Teen-Age Gangs

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Australian police today opened a campaign against the country's No. 1 social problem: roving teen-age gangs.

The boys, "bodgies" and girls, "widgies," wear outlandish clothes and travel in gangs with such names as "The Asphalt Arabs." A rash of street fights and other disturbances

Grade 7 Pupil Has Top Essay On Sooke Fete

SOOKE — Bardy Davidson, 12-year-old grade 7 pupil at Milnes Landing High School, was named winner of an essay writing contest on the subject, "What All-Sooke Day Means to Me."

Her essay will be printed in the All-Sooke Day program, and she will receive her $25 first prize from Sooke Community Association president Eric Butler during the annual celebration July 21.

Judges were Frank Gray, Richard Cains and Dugald DeRochie, all former presidents of the association. The contest, sponsored by the association and open to elementary and high school students, attracted 30 entries.

Runners-up were Jeannie Duncan, Margaret Burton, Gladys Heathman, Pat Smith and Roslyn Howard, all of Sooke.

Bardy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Davidson of Sooke.

MONTREAL (BUP) — Provincial police said today they had released Jack Kaminsky, 48-year-old balloon salesman who had been held for questioning in the murder of a nine-year-old boy.

On the railroads, too, the net is tightening round the "bodgies" who are making a habit of slashing carriage seats and smashing windows and throwing light bulbs and bottles from speeding trains. The railways department has put a plain-clothes force of 80 men on the task of halting this vandalism.

TILLCUM TROOP held a cross-country hike by compass in the Highland district.

WINDSOR PARK "B" PACK spent the weekend camping at D'Emmanon Creek, Sooke.

WINDSOR PARK "B" PACK: At the regular meeting last week, Maureen Evans was presented with a compact by the group committee and a scout knife by the boys of the pack. Miss Evans is leaving the group.

Jock Angus and Michael Bell were invested as "sixers" and David Barty and Chris Tuch appointed "seconds." David Barty received his first star.

THIRD VICTORIA GROUP held a family picnic at Pat Bay Sunday. A scouts' own was held in the morning. Games, swimming and a treasure hunt were a part of the activities.

SECOND MOUNT TOLMIE TROOP spent the weekend camping at D'Emmanon Creek, Sooke.

Queen Gives

Anthony Eden His 'Garter'

WINDSOR, England (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth today buckled a jewelled garter around the left knee of her prime minister, Sir Anthony Eden, investing him as a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, the oldest European order of chivalry.

In a ceremony more than 600 years old, she also invested two other new Knights of the Order, Earl Attlee, former leader of the Labor party and prime minister from 1945 until 1951, and Lord Ieath, chancellor of Dublin University.

Sir Winston Churchill, who was invested as a Knight of the Garter two years ago, was one of Eden's supporters today. The formal investiture followed conferring of the award on Eden last year.

In the throne room of Windsor Castle, the Queen, wearing a royal blue mantle, the Garter on her arm, a plumed, floppy hat and blue sash and St. George medallions, summoned the new knights-elect. She had returned from a state visit to Sweden only a few hours before.

Eden, in morning dress, led the way, passing through the lines of the Knights Companions of the Order and their ladies.

The Queen Mother, a Lady of the Garter, the Duke of Edinburgh and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester also were at the private ceremony.

Death Taxes Force Sale of Killarney

By RANALD MACLURKIN
KILLARNEY, Ireland (Reuters) — The sentimental Irish who live around these lakes are keeping their eyes wide open for the legendary fairy crock of gold that could allow them to buy Killarney.

The boatmen on the lakes and the picturesque jarveys who drive tourists around in the two-wheeled Irish jaunting cars are as worried as can be about the future of their renowned beauty spot.

For Killarney is up for sale. Death duties levied on the estate of the late Earl of Kenmare, who owned Killarney, have made the sale of the 8,320 acres of lakes and land necessary.

The advertisements do not state any price but it is known that the crock of gold the Irish seek will have to contain at least £100,000. Irish tourist associations have so far been unable to find the cash and have called on the government for help.

THREE DEATHS REASON

Mrs. Beatrice Grosvenor, one of the family, is reluctant to sell the lovely estate but she has no option because of the demand for death duties of £70,000. This heavy tax was caused by the deaths of three Earls of Kenmare within a few years.

The estate for sale includes Ross Castle, the Lower and Middle lakes, and Kenmare House, home of the Earls of Kenmare.

The Aleut word "alashka" which gave Alaska its name means "big land" or "mainland."

TITO TELLS RUSSIANS HE'S BACK IN FAMILY

SOCHI, Russia (AP) — Yugoslavia's President Tito told a cheering crowd at this Black Sea resort Sunday he was part of the Soviet family.

Deeply tanned from the hot sun and resplendent in a white marshal's uniform trimmed with scarlet and gold, Tito stood on the colonnade of the Sochi State Theatre and said:

"I feel at home in the Soviet Union because we are part of the same family—the family of socialism."

N.B. ELECTION TODAY; UNIQUE BALLOTS USED

(Phone 2-3131 for Results)

FREDERICTON (CP)—New Brunswick voters used unique ballot forms in today's provincial election.

There was no official ballot as used in federal voting and in elections in other provinces.

The New Brunswicker had choice of two ballot types: 1. A blank sheet of paper. 2. A ballot issued by one of the contending political parties and listing only its particular candidates.

On the blank sheet the voter could write the names of the candidates he favored.

On a party ballot he could vote a straight ticket by putting it in a ballot box unchanged, or he could split his vote by scratching out one or more names and substituting others of his choice.

Strasser Launches German Party

MILTENBERG, Germany (UP)—Otto Strasser, a one-time confidante of Adolf Hitler, brought his new Nazi party into the open Sunday at a founding conference marked by brawling, bloodshed and rioting.

Shouting youths fired salvos of tear gas into the conference and fought a hand-to-hand battle with riot police before order was restored. It was a scene in the best Nazi tradition in the old Bavarian town.

The anti-Strasser youths surged into the hotel conference room with shouts of "Get down!" and "Give up!" as Strasser began addressing the

Rail Rates Raised 7% For Lumber

In Effect July 3
On B.C. Shipments

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners today granted the railways a 7 per cent increase on lumber shipments within western Canada.

The increase is to take effect July 3. The board tied it in with its award of a 7 per cent interim boost on general rates. The interim increase was approved pending a fall hearing on the railways' application for an-across-the-board 15 per cent jump.

The lumber increase affects shipments from points in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and from west of Port Arthur and Armstrong, Ont.

The board's order applies "wherever the rates from points in British Columbia to points in western Canada prior to March 7, 1956, were on a parity with rates from Seattle, Wash., to the same destinations."

Woman Hurt As Car Rams Guard Rail

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UP)—A forest fire apparently touched off by trapped leaders of the anti-British EOKA Greek Cypriot underground killed 19 British soldiers and burned scores of others, it was announced today.

Operation "Lucky Alphonse," a British army drive to capture the death-dealing guerrillas, turned into disaster for the British troops—the worst of the Cyprus rebellion.

Sooke RCMP said the 1951 model car went off the road and was damaged to the extent of about $1,000.

There were no other injuries.

About 6 p.m., Sunday, J. Long, Prospect Lake, caused several hundred dollars damage to his car and required head stitches after the car he was driving struck a pole on the West Saanich Road.

The British army said that 19 were killed and 18 injured seriously when the fire first burst into the cordon of troops Sunday. Another 50 casualties were being flown back to hospitals today as the blaze raged on out of control.

The operation was aimed particularly at Col. George Grivas, the British-trained Greek Cypriot leader of EOKA who once put a "price" on the head of Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus.

Norman Spencer, Mount Newton Crossroad, is in Resthaven Hospital, Sidney, suffering a possible fractured cheekbone and head cuts suffered when his motor scooter skidded on loose gravel near his home and tossed him over the handlebars.

Cyprus Death-Bombs 'Blind, Senseless'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, in sharp reaction to the bomb death of an American in Nicosia, today denounced violence on Cyprus "as a blind and senseless course."

State department press officer Lincoln White read to reporters an official statement on the death of William P. Boteler, vice-consul at Nicosia, who was killed in a bombing Saturday. Three other Americans were injured.

7% Freight Rates Hike Ordered for July 3

Ottawa (CP) — The Board of transport commissioners today authorized the railways to increase freight rates by seven per cent between July 3 and Oct. 3.

The increase, which might affect the railways between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 in the four months, is an interim measure pending fuller board consideration of an application by the companies for a general 15 per cent boost.

The railways have sought the higher rates to offset recent contract concession to 150,000 non-operating employees. The companies have estimated the 15-per-cent hoist would yield Canadian National Railways $27,600,000 a year and the Canadian Pacific Railway $19,200,000.

LIMITING ORDERS

Initially, the transport board announced last week it would grant an increase—unspecified

then—to be effective between July 1 and Oct. 31.

The temporary general increase order—to be reviewed by the commissioners after fall hearings starting here Sept. 24—was accompanied by two interlocking judgments and directions for particular treatment of some commodities with respect to tolls.

The board limited any increase on coal and coke to 12 cents a ton for the four-month period. The railways have asked for 25 cents. Western coal operators have protested the proposed boost.

The board also instructed to:

1. A 10 per cent increase in rates on grain moving within the west to Canadian markets, ordered tentatively by the board in 1955 to go into effect last Jan. 1 and later suspended, is wiped out and replaced by the seven per cent increase.

DOMESTIC ONLY

2. The railways will be allowed to apply increases up to seven per cent on western lumber moving eastward, this tallying with the size of the general hoist. Last winter, the board blocked a railway attempt to boost the lumber rates by six per cent.

The allowed raise in grain rates does not affect Canada's big grain movement, the export trade. It is only on grain and grain products going to domestic markets. The export tolls are held at low levels by the Crownest Pass statute of 1925.

The domestic rate increase could be worth $1,500,000 a year to the railways, depending on how they apply it.

The grain rate boost resulted from a railway application put in about two years ago. Initially, the board considered giving the companies two successive increases of 10 per cent. Western interests protested, and the latest decision follows a series of hearings on the west coast.

Apart from the treatment of grain, lumber and coal, the board made these other distinctions in its main judgment:

1. Joint international rates between Canadian and U.S. railways are not affected.

2. Export and import rates to and from Canadian ports—which are maintained on a parity with U.S. seaboard points—are not touched.

MAINTAIN DIFFERENTIALS

3. There will be no increases on traffic passing through Canada from one U.S. point to another.

4. Established differentials in rates between straight rail hauls and those involving rail and water shipments will be preserved "as far as may be practicable." This applies mainly to traffic between eastern and western Canada in which Great Lakes shipping is in competition with the railroads.

The general rate increase, subject to review, was granted following the claim of the railways that they will need one of considerably larger size to take care of the contract concessions gained this summer by the non-operating employees. It is conceded that increases also will be obtained by the running

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Mrs. Golda Myerson succeeds Moshe Sharett today as foreign minister in a cabinet shakeup that gives Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion a free hand in his policy of toughness with the Arab states.

In submissions to the transport board, the railways have contended that the full 15 per cent increase they seek would not give them the chance to reach the level of earnings which the board previously has had.

MINIMUM INCREASE

In its major decision today, the board said studies by itself and its specialists have shown that the seven per cent temporary increase is an "irreducible minimum."

It would not give the railways enough leeway to get back the amount in retroactive pay increases the non-operating workers already had received. Nor would it cover later increases to the running trades.

The board decision contained a suggestion that the eventual judgment will give the railways more than seven per cent. In explaining why it put in an interim decision now, it said this:

"When increases on general freight rates appear inevitable, they can be absorbed less onerously by the public who has to bear them if they can be apportioned gradually."

This was the fastest decision the board ever has given on for as much as 18 months.

GOP Believes Ike Will Run

FROM AP AND UP

WASHINGTON.—Republican leaders point out what they believe to be a strong sign that President Eisenhower intends to run again.

They note that the White House has not made any move to delay final arrangements for the Republican national convention.

The Republican national committee will meet here Friday to wrap up the last details for the party's August convention in San Francisco.

Among other things the 46-member group will consider a proposal to compress the proposed four-day convention into three days.

If it acts on such a proposal without any adverse White House reaction, the move will be interpreted as indicating that despite his operation Eisenhower is going along with plans for his renomination and of Vice-President Richard Nixon.

The original move to shorten the convention was based on the presumption that little time would be required to approve an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

President Eisenhower conferred privately with Vice-President Richard M. Nixon for 15 minutes today at Walter Reed Hospital. Nixon told reporters that "the question of the president's future political actions was not discussed."

The Wedding

IT WAS, I think, the simplest, nicest, most natural wedding that I've ever been to. They held it out of doors on the strip of hay field that lay between the farmhouse garden and the sea.

The farmhouse wasn't much of a house, really: just a brown-frame building with a wide front porch that, in summertime, served as an extra room. It had a battered couch and several chairs and a painted wooden table with the inevitable pile of books and papers and magazines.

The garden wasn't a grand garden, either. Just a cottage one with the sort of flowers we all know well. It had no real lawn for the wedding guests. So the hayfield seemed the logical place for the chairs and benches and trestle tables.

Ruth

They scythed the hay a few days before the wedding and, on the day itself, it was still piled in haycocks at the edge of the field.

I can't remember what brand of minister took the service, though I do recall hearing the familiar and beautiful words, "For richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish till death do us part."

I remember very vividly the big arbutus leaning towards the beach, the cry of sea-gulls and the cawing of crows.

I remember the scent of hay and the sight of robins in a loaded cherry tree.

Best of all, I remember how, half-way through the ceremony, a tiny baby cried for a moment in its mother's arms.

All the guests at the wedding were those friends of the family or long-time neighbors. No one was invited for business reasons or to repay a social obligation. There was

YOUR HEALTH

Alcoholism in Industry

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation

In that remarkable little journal "Plantation Health," published in Hawaii by physicians who take care of the workers on the plantations, Dr. G. H. Gehrmann says that during his 40 years of practice in industrial medicine, chronic alcoholism has been one of the important health problems and the most difficult one to solve. In many cases the doctors are unable to rehabilitate the alcoholic.

As Dr. Gehrmann says, one of the troubles in the past has been that so many persons have thought that the alcoholic is a bad man who could behave himself if he wanted to. But no, the alcoholic is sick. He is miserable and terribly unhappy—so much so that often he thinks of suicide. He is suffering from a chronic nervous disease which, if untreated, will lead to total permanent disability or death. The doctor emphasizes the importance of starting treatment early, while the man has enough will power left with which to fight his way back to health.

He says that discharging an alcoholic doesn't do much good; it simply passes the problem on to some other employer, and finally to the people of the community who have to care for the man and eventually for his dependents. The doctor reminds us that in a big company it costs some $5,000 to train an efficient operator, and $25,000 to train a research chemist. If the man then becomes ruined by alcohol this investment is lost.

For 28 years the DuPonts, with whom Dr. Gehrmann works, pursued the old-fashioned policy of scolding the alcoholic, telling him to stop, threatening him with discharge, and then firing him. Much time, effort and money were spent on each patient, but all to no avail. The cost to the company was high and the results were nil.

Then, one day, a man came in who told the doctor that he had been an alcoholic and had been straightened out by Alcoholics Anonymous. He suggested that the doctor attend a few meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous and learn something about alcoholics. The doctor went and soon saw why he had been failing to help these men. Going back to his office, he hired Dave, a cured chronic alcoholic and an old member of AA, as his special assistant. Together they went to work.

First, they planned for the education of alcoholics, and particularly the men who were beginning to slip. These men were treated as sick patients—not bad men. They needed sympathy and understanding—not criticism and intolerance. They needed to be recognized and helped early, because once alcoholism has progressed to the stage of mental deterioration, the person may be incurable.

Few men who have reached the gutter feel that they have any incentive left to try to better themselves.

What are the early signs of alcoholism? Usually the man's boss or foreman or supervisor can quickly recognize the symptoms. One of the first signs is that the man does not show up on Monday. This is practically a give-away; it tells the story. No other disease so consistently makes a man ill on Monday. On Tuesday the man is cross, irritable and hard to get along with. He makes mistakes, and his work is not well done. He does not look well; he hasn't shaved well; his clothes are not neat; his eyes become reddened and puffy and bleary, and his hands tremble.

Under Dr. Gehrmann's new plan, the man's supervisor takes him aside and has a kind talk with him, telling him that he is falling behind in his work. He must do better. He is sent to the doctor who, again, talks to him in a kindly way, but insists that the fellow realize that he is coming down with a very serious disease, and one that can easily destroy and kill him. He is told that he must immediately become a total abstainer and must continue so far for the rest of his life. He can never drink again. He will never be safe again, but he can go straight if he wants to badly enough. He is told that he must really want to stop drinking, and he must want help, or he will surely go on down hill.

He is reminded that Alcoholics Anonymous will have nothing to do with him unless he frankly admits that he is an alcoholic and in need of help. Too often the alcoholic is the last man to admit that he is in trouble. Too often his friends fail to help him because they are reluctant to say anything to him about his disease.

If the man agrees that he needs help and says he wants it, then the doctor keeps in touch with him for at least three months. If he refuses help, or maintains that he doesn't need it, not much can be done for him.

SYNOPSIS — The remnants of a Pacific storm moved inland across the north coast Sunday night and will reach the eastern Cariboo by Tuesday morning. The southern edge of this system should reach the lower mainland tonight and the Kootenay by Tuesday evening.

The storm will give showers with its passage in coastal areas but east of the coast mountains precipitation is expected to be slight.

Due to the cloud cover temperatures along the coast will lie chiefly in the low sixties, a few degrees below normal for the season. Today will be quite warm again in the interior, but the influx of cooler air will drop temperatures by about 10 degrees on Tuesday.

Shrubs Grow Slowly But Surely in Clay

New gardens with a stiff clay of your friends who have a soil are the despair of their owners.

From personal experience with such soil I would offer encouragement to those who have tried to grow flowering shrubs and trees and who have failed on account of the soil.

On clay soil, shrubs are slow to become established. Their roots do not rapidly penetrate the clay to find the riches locked in its structure.

These will grow slowly into vigorous, sturdy plants, well able to withstand buffettings in exposed positions, and ripening their wood to give more spectacular displays of bloom than their quickly-established brethren in easier soil.

This is a point to remember when buying either trees or shrubs. Choose the smaller plants, since they will have less top-growth to support while pushing roots into the surrounding soil.

BE PATIENT — Don't expect phenomenal growth during the first two or three years, but from then on your shrubs will increase in vigor and beauty beyond those

Pioneer Sawmill Operator Succumbs

ALBERNI (CP)—William Littleton, 84, pioneer sawmill operator along Vancouver Island's west coast, died in hospital here Friday.

Born in Ontario, he built and operated mills on Meares Island, Ucluelet and McCoy Lake. Surviving are three sons—Stanley and Ellery of Alberni, and William of Ucluelet. Mrs. E. Homewood, a daughter, also lives in Alberni.

Markers, Graders Seek Wage Change

DUNCAN (CP) — At a special meeting here Saturday the 5,000-member Duncan local 1-80 of the IWA decided to seek a revision of the wage rates for markers, graders and tallymen.

The revision will be sought on a district basis. Present minimum rate for the various classifications is $1.72 an hour. A minimum hourly rate of $1.95 an hour will be the aim of the IWA.

Germans Capture Equestrian Games

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Guenther Winkler and a pair of high jumping fellow Germans swept the final day of the equestrian Olympic games Sunday by winning gold medals in both the team and individual Grand Prix Jumping.

The jumping show brought an end to the equestrian games

which were held in Stockholm

instead of Melbourne, site of the other summer games, because of prohibitive Australian horse quarantine laws.

Canada had no entry in the

NEW PICNIC TABLES AND BEACH EXTENSION by Beaver-Elk Lake Swim Committee are examined

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

It's alright to have a weekend, as long as you know which end is your weekend.

Few fathers enjoyed the eve of Father's Day as much as Harold Moist did.

With the conviviality of both her parents, Harold's teenage daughter organized a beach party for Saturday evening. And the deal was, all her pals were to meet at the Moist's home.

Well, they did. Twenty of them. Shortly after the influx began, Harold found himself in the back alley, seated upon a garbage can, and brooding about the facts of life.

It would be grand to be a father, Harold brooded, especially on the eve of Father's Day, if it weren't for the fact one has to have children to be a father.

And then there is the case of Sandy Fleming, age six. Sandy sang his first solo in St. Paul's Garrison Church on Sunday.

Was Sandy, age six, nervous? Nope.

Was Norah Fleming, who happens to be Sandy's mother, nervous?

Of course. After all, it was Father's Day, and Cmdr. Fleming was too busy being a father to be nervous. Much.

Not much else happened over the weekend. Except Tony Dickason dropped in for a bit of advice. He said he had been reading Saturday Night during the afternoon, and was this wrong timing?

I said he needn't worry, I had just been listening to Doris Day singing "All Through the Night."

Tony and I then sat down to discuss the relationship of Doris Day to Saturday Night, when who should we hear but Norm Pringle, announcing that "National give Elvis Presley a Rest Week" was about to begin.

This, of course, shook us to the core. Imagine, a whole week without hearing Elvis Presley! But then Pringle fixed everything up for us. As a finale to precede "Elvis Presley" week, he played three of the dear man's recordings, all at once.

Tony and I were happy to find out Pringle isn't REALLY against Elvis. Because Tony and I, we don't dislike him. It's just that we can't stand him.

And then I wound up the weekend with a chat with Steve Mellors, whose meteorological experts have charted a secret course across Juan de Fuca Strait.

What I didn't say to Steve, and probably should, is that he forgot to let Old Man Juan in on the secret.

As for me, I'm waiting for the men to bring me my Strait jacket, Juan de Fuca Strait, that is.

So. Which end IS the weekend?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Flower lovers will find Beacon Hill park rose garden at its best toward the end of next week, parks administrator W. H. Warren said today.

Bush roses will be in full bloom but climbers suffered such serious frost damage during winter months they are not expected to bloom this year, although new growth has been rapid.

Victoria Ald. Geoffrey L. Edgell will address a Kinsmen meeting June 25 on the subject of provision of beaches on the Gorge.

Ald. Edgell, who is also chairman of the Gorge Improvement Association, will ask the clubmen to undertake beach construction and provision of bathing houses as a civic project at the old public bathing area below Tillicum road bridge.

Carl Carlson, 1820 Adanac, was fined $45 and restricted to driving for business purposes only for three months when he was convicted in city court today of careless driving June 8. His car was in collision with another auto at Linden and Richardson.

Ronald Groutage, Victoria, and Raymond Fraser, Sidney, each paid $10 fines when convicted on counts of speeding through a school zone and failing to stop at a stop sign, when they appeared before Justice of the Peace D. G. Ashby in Sidney RCMP court.

200 to 300 Expected In Lake Swim

First applications have already been filled out for the second annual Beaver-Elk Lake distance swim for teenagers and a completed registration of from 200 to 300 is expected this year.

Chairman Robin Stewart of the swim committee said today that practice swims will start soon. Boys and girls in age groups 11 to 13, 13 to 16 and 16 to 19 may pick up application forms at Lakeside Tearoom at Beaver Lake.

Though held on Labor Day last year, the 1956 swim will take place Saturday, Sept. 1, and the program of entertainment will give joint emphasis to the 50th anniversary of the municipality of Saanich.

The 34-member Beaver-Elk Lake swim committee is currently improving beach facilities at Beaver Lake where the two-mile marathon swim ends. (Start is at Happyland on Elk Lake.)

BEACH EXTENSION

Volunteers from the committee are now extending the Beaver Lake beach, have already cleared about 250 feet at the southwest end of the old beach and plan to go another 200 feet toward the old filter tank area.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks committee provided $3,000 to the project and this has been allotted for new park houses on Vining and a wall telephone torn from one of them was recovered in the street later.

FOUR CAUGHT

Four boys between seven and nine were apprehended and turned over to their parents.

Last Saturday evening vandalism in the Jewish cemetery on Fernwood was reported and a police check disclosed several tombstones overturned and one broken.

At 11:25 p.m. Mrs. B. Bennett, in the Fernwood area, told police a gang of youths threw something through her front door window and ran away. Police found a piece of iron had smashed a 16x40-inch leaded glass pane from the door.

GARDEN DAMAGED

Empress Hotel management reported $250 worth of roses and shrubs was torn up from the garden at the rear of the hotel overnight Friday.

Mrs. A. Prior, 4951 Pat Bay highway, told police the home of her sister, Mrs. L. Savory, 1724 Amphion, was broken into during the latter's absence. The front door had been forced, but it was not known if any property was stolen.

Canadians, she said, eat about six pounds of cheese per person per year; Americans consume eight pounds. Both these figures are at least a two-pound jump compared with 15 years ago.

30 POUNDS

In some European countries, cheese intake is as high as 30 pounds per person yearly, mostly because of shortages of meat.

Miss Dahne's specific job is "the women's viewpoint" in public relations, advertising and sales. She comes up with creative ideas designed to pump more cheese to the palate.

RAZOR TAKEN

Saturday afternoon D. C. Bruce of Bruce's Pharmacy, 3220 Douglas, told police his son was taking a $27.95 electric razor from McCall-Davey Drugs and stopped near Flagstaff Street to recover a pen which had fallen down a sidewalk grating.

He set the razor down and a man walked away with it.

That night three cars were partially stripped, a bakery window smashed and a hotel room door forced and entered.

J. E. Atkinson, 1695 Fort, said two front wheels were stolen from his car as it stood outside his home, and J. L. Roaf, 1350 Rockland, told police three tires and wheels were taken from his car while it was parked at the above address.

Two custom hubcaps were stolen from a car owned by Peter Feen, 1536 Cormorant, as it stood outside the premises.

Value was about $20.

Norman Irving, 207 Drake Hotel, reported a $32 radio missing from his room Sunday afternoon. The door had been forced.

Brodie's Bakery, 2653 Douglas, reported glass smashed out of a rear window, but no entry to the premises was noted.

Loitering Charge Laid at Sidney

Sidney RCMP will bring a 22-year-old Brentwood man to Sidney court Tuesday on a charge of loitering at night, for which he was picked up Saturday.

A man trying to break into a home in Sidney's 1500 block knocked down a window blind and caused children in the house to scream in alarm at the sudden noise.

The young man was arrested about 200 yards away near the waterfront, police said.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Soft Suede and Kid Purses From the Land of Greece

By PENNY SAVER

IMPORTED . . . that's the magic word that draws shoppers to view and admire and eventually buy special items being shown in downtown stores. Who would think that anything so common place as a change purse could cause such interest? These that I found are made of the softest kid and suede, and come in every shade imaginable. They are the long, pouch-style purses with snap closings. The bottom of the pouch folds up and snaps to the top of the purse. When unfolded, it discloses a fold to hold bills. The whole purse is suede lined. They're made in Greece, and come in yellow, pale blue, tan, pink, brown, green, red, gold, navy, maroon, black, and purple. You can buy one for $2.95.

merits of these attractive purses to something so unrelated as a bird bath somehow escapes me. Nevertheless, I'd like to tell you about the eye-catching (and bird-catching) bird baths and garden ornaments I saw. They look like marble, but are really made of cast plastic that is light enough for anyone in the house to lift. A creamy, mottled effect is achieved, and seems to give a rich and regal note to any garden. The bird bath is a large one, and costs $10.95.

If you prefer a sundial in your garden, you also buy one in the same plastic, with a plastic dial. An appropriate motto of the type found on sundials is inscribed around the face. This is also $10.95.

A large solar ball on a plastic base reflects the sun and adds a bright spot to your garden and yard, and costs $15.95.

The bride chose for the ceremony a net and lace over taffeta gown fashioned with a lace jacket with lily point sleeves. A seed pearl tiara held her chapel veil. Red roses and white feathered carnations were in her bridal bouquet.

Miss Helen Fenn, sister of the bride, was the attendant. She wore a blue lace and net over taffeta gown with matching jacket and headress. Her bouquet was of pink and white stocks. Best man was Cadet Gordon Longmuir, RCN, and ushers, PO R. E. Fitchett, RCN, and PO R. A. Caught, RCN.

Naval Veterans' Auditorium was decorated with summer flowers in blue and white with the naval ensign for a reception which followed the ceremony. A hand-embroidered cloth covered the bride's table, which was centred with a three-tier cake decorated with rosebuds and anchors. Dan Barr proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece coral dress with all-white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The newlyweds will move into their new home at 934 Ellery street in the near future.

7% Freight Rates Hike Ordered for July 3

Ottawa (CP) — The Board of transport commissioners today authorized the railways to increase freight rates by seven per cent between July 3 and Oct. 31.

The increase, which might yield the railways between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 in the four months, is an interim measure pending fuller board consideration of an application by the companies for a general 15 per cent boost.

The railways have sought the higher rates to offset recent contract concession to 150,000 non-operating employees. The companies have estimated the 15-per-cent hike would yield Canadian National Railways $27,600,000 a year and the Canadian Pacific Railway $19,200,000.

LIMITING ORDERS

Initially, the transport board announced last week it would grant an increase—unspecified

then—to be effective between July 1 and Oct. 31.

The temporary general increase order—to be reviewed by the commissioners after fall hearings starting here Sept. 24—was accompanied by two interlocking judgments and directions for particular treatment of some commodities with respect to tolls.

The board limited any increase on coal and coke to 12 cents a ton for the four-month period. The railways have asked for 25 cents. Western coal operators have protested the proposed boost.

The board also instructed to-day that:

1. A 10 per cent increase in rates on grain moving within the west to Canadian markets, ordered tentatively by the board in 1955 to go into effect last Jan. 1 and later suspended, is wiped out and replaced by the seven per cent increase.

DOMESTIC ONLY

2. The railways will be allowed to apply increases up to seven per cent on western lumber moving eastward, this-tallying with the size of the general hike. Last winter, the board blocked a railway attempt to boost the lumber rates by 10 per cent.

The allowed raise in grain rates does not affect Canada's big grain movement, the export trade. It is only on grain and grain products going to domestic markets. The export tolls are held at low levels by the Crownest Pass statute of 1925. The domestic rate increase could be worth $1,500,000 a year to the railways, depending on how they apply it.

The grain rate boost resulted from a railway application put in about two years ago. Initially, the board considered giving the companies two successive increases of 10 per cent. Western interests protested, and the latest decision follows a series of hearings on the west coast.

Apart from the treatment of grain, lumber and coal, the board made these other distinctions in its main judgment:

1. Joint international rates between Canadian and U.S. railways are not affected.

2. Export and import rates and from Canadian ports which are maintained at parity with U.S. seaboard points are not touched.

Maintain DIFFERENTIALS

3. There will be no increases on traffic passing through Canada from one U.S. point to another.

4. Established differentials in rates between straight rail hauls and those involving rail and water shipments will be preserved "as far as may be practicable." This applies mainly to traffic between eastern and western Canada in which Great Lakes shipping is in competition with the railroads.

The general rate increase, subject to review, was granted following the claim of the railways that they will need one of considerably larger size to take care of the contract concessions gained this summer by the non-operating employees. It is conceded that increases also will be obtained by the running

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Mrs. Golda Myerson succeeds Moshe

Sharett today as foreign minister in a cabinet shakeup that gives Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion a free hand in his policy of toughness with the Arab states.

In submissions to the transport board, the railways have contended that the full 15 per cent increase they seek would not give them the chance to reach the level of earnings that the board previously has had lost ground in recent elections.

Mrs. Myerson, a former Milwaukee, Wis., school teacher and now Israel's labor minister, was named to succeed Sharett. She is a staunch observer of Ben-Gurion's policy of toughness that her appointment will give the prime minister complete control of foreign affairs, observers said.

Mordechai Namir succeeds Mrs. Myerson in the labor post.

Sharett, with the support of a strong cabinet faction, had opposed Ben-Gurion on many foreign policy issues.

GOP Believes Ike Will Run

FROM AP AND UP

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders point out what they believe to be a strong sign that President Eisenhower intends to run again.

They note that the White House has not made any move to delay final arrangements for the Republican national convention.

The Republican national committee will meet here Friday to wrap up the last details for the party's August convention in San Francisco.

Among other things the 46-member group will consider a proposal to compress the proposed four-day convention into three days.

If it acts on such a proposal without any adverse White House reaction, the move will be interpreted as indicating that despite his operation Eisen-

The original move to shorten the convention was based on the presumption that little time would be required to approve an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

President Eisenhower conferred privately with Vice President Richard M. Nixon for 15 minutes today at Walter Reed Hospital. Nixon told reporters that "the question of the president's future political actions was not discussed."

Mr. Eisenhower also held a separate private meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and a brief joint meeting with Nixon and Dulles. It was his first visit with Nixon since the president's emergency operation June 9 to relieve an intestinal block.

"THE STORY OF THREE LOVES"

Starring: Great Stars

Peter Ansani, Elizabeth Lawrence, Leslie Caron, Kirk Douglas, Farley Granger, James Mason, Marlene Dietrich, Anne Bancroft, with Rickie Lee Jones, Zoo Gable and Richard Anderson

This picture which has been termed "not one—but eight" stars in the title suggests the story of three loves... but it is one different story. The story of the dangerous impasse for his pupil. The story in fantasy of boy... boy... his father and finally the love of two trapeze artists who know what it takes to keep up their profession. There are all the elements of a Technicolor production which will satisfy all tastes, especially acted out by the stars of the screen.

Stratford Opens Festival Tonight

160,000 Expected to Attend
113 Drama, Music Sessions

By BILL BOSS

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — The first audiences are arriving. More than 60 drama critics from points between Vancouver, New York and London, England, have assembled. The dress rehearsals are over.

For today the fourth annual Stratford Shakespearean Festival opens.

And for nine weeks, during which an expected 160,000 visitors from throughout North America will see 113 drama and music presentations near the bank of the Avon river, this city of 20,000 in the heart of western Ontario will be Canada's summer capital of the arts.

Shakespeare's King Henry V and The Merry Wives of Windsor, both with all-Canadian casts, are the solid fare around which the festival is built. Each gets 37 performances, and for audiences in a hurry there are 20 days on which both are given.

Montreal's Christopher Plummer is King Henry, fresh from a Broadway triumph as the Earl of Warwick in "The Lark," the Jean Anouilh-Lillian Hellman version of Joan of Arc's story.

Emcee's 'Hint' May Force Rerun Of $64,000 Challenge on Art

NEW YORK (AP) — An apparent slip-of-the-tongue hint from an excited master of ceremonies has forced a television quiz show to review a decision on who won its $64,000 jackpot.

Actor Vincent Price and jockey Bill Pearson tied again Sunday night in answering art questions on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Challenge. The two were awarded $32,000 each.

Both had a tough time identifying Michaelangelo's monogram, which resembled Chinese writing, but both eventually came up with the answer.

But CBS said later: "After the program went off the air, however, it came to the attention of the producers that Sonny Fox appeared inadvertently to have indicated the name Michaelangelo to Pearson.

"In fairness to all concerned, the program's producers will study a kinescope film of the program . . . to arrive at a decision as to what disposition shall be made of tonight's Pearson-Price contest."

Remember how you felt the first time you set foot aboard a CNR train . . . the sense of security and well-being — the excitement of going somewhere fast?

A THRILL TO RECAPTURE — Why not, soon, give your youngsters a chance to savor the same delicious thrill of a first time trip?

TRAVEL IS EDUCATION — Through the huge picture windows the glories of the countryside come vividly alive. Rivers your youngster read about, wind lazily by, and a town that was only a vague name comes alive. When you travel by CNR with your family, you're on a holiday too, completely relaxed, no sense of strain.

ON CNR, YOU'VE NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD — A-meals bite? You'll be delighted when you try CNR's dining facilities . . . anything from a snack to a full course meal. Stretch your legs? You can "go for a walk" for half a mile as the train speeds along. On this highway there's no need to worry about where you're stopping for the next washroom, or where you're going to eat — everything for your family's convenience travels right along with you. And, if you wish, a rented car will await your arrival at major points.

It's fun to travel CNR — that's why every week more and more Canadians go CNR on such famous "name" trains as the Super Continental, the Continental, the Ocean Limited.

19 British Troops Die As Cypriots Burn Forest

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Two Greek Cypriot youths were sentenced to death and a third to life imprisonment today when all three were found guilty of shooting at a Royal Air Force corporal at Nicosia airport last month.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UP) — A forest fire apparently touched off by trapped leaders of the anti-British EOKA Greek Cypriot underground killed 19 British soldiers and burned scores of others, it was announced today.

Operation "Lucky Alphonse," a British army drive to capture the death-dealing guerrillas, turned into disaster for the British troops—the worst of the Cyprus rebellion.

The caged-in guerrillas were believed to have started the flames that roared through the dry pine woods of the Troodos mountains into the advancing line of soldiers. It was the worst toll in 14 months of battle.

The British army said that 19 were killed and 18 injured seriously when the first fire burst into the cordon of troops Sunday. Another 50 casualties were being flown back to hospitals today as the blaze raged on out of control.

The operation was aimed particularly at Col. George Grivas, the British-trained Greek Cypriot leader of EOKA who once put a "price" on the head of Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus.

He was reported surrounded in the 400 square miles of pine woods and dense underbrush at one point but apparently escaped when the forest fire raced through the tinder-dry woods toward the British army.

Hospitals throughout the island were filled with burned men as British troops and civilians fought the flames.

The forest fire hit some of Britain's top troops—marine commandos, paratroopers, armor and ground units of the Royal Air Force and the Royal Navy.

Thousands of acres of highly combustible pine timber were blazing, and there was no rain in sight. The fire threatened to become the worst in Cyprus history.

UNION STRIKE THREAT SPANNING ATLANTIC

TORONTO (CP) — The Communist-led United Electrical Workers' Union (Ind.) said Sunday it seeks help from British trade unions in its wage dispute at Ferranti Electric Ltd. here.

Local 525 of the UEW, bargaining agent for 320 workers, wrote a letter to the Electrical Trades Union at Bromley, Kent, bargaining agent for workers in the parent company in England.

In reply, the British trade union is reported to have said the Canadian strike issues would be discussed with Sir Vincent Ferranti as soon as he returns from a trip. Unless a satisfactory conclusion is reached, the local here said the British union will take some action to assist the UEW.

Lake Cowichan Firemen Tops In Life-Saving

YOUTOU (CP) — A realistic life-saving contest, featuring a smoke-filled bunk house in which two people waited to be rescued, was held Saturday as part of the Vancouver Island Firefighters' Association convention.

The competition, in which fire brigades vied with each other to effect the speediest and most efficient simulated rescue, was won by Lake Cowichan detachment under Captain Bob Weismiller. The Ladysmith brigade under George Muir placed second.

By winning, Lake Cowichan took possession of the Allen Cup, top trophy at the convention.

In another life-saving contest, Langford Fire Department under Captain Lou Hagen emerged as the winner, with Ladysmith second and Lake Cowichan third.

Prizes were presented at a banquet Saturday night attended by about 180 persons, including members of the Great Central Lakes Ladies' Fire Brigade, which also held its convention.

In elections held Sunday, Charlie Wilson of Nanaimo was named president of the Firefighters' Association and Bill

Teenagers Attack Immigrants

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Fist-swinging, rock-throwing teenagers attacked six young Italians, three of them girls, at nearby Lakeland beach Sunday night. A girl and three men were taken to hospital for treatment.

Shouting "D.P.s go home," the teenagers taunted and then attacked the three couples as they sat in their car in front of a refreshment stand. Fists and then stones flew after the Italians had been forced from the car.

Squads of police in cruisers converged on the scene and broke up the fight. Nine youths were questioned at police headquarters,
